In presenting this, our ninth volume of the Des Moines Directory, to the citizens and the public, the publishers believe that it will meet with approval. We do not claim that the work is entirely free from errors, yet it is presumed that it is as nearly so as it is possible to make a publication of this character. To commit no error in spelling a name, to give with exactness every initial, to give with accuracy the residence of every citizen, and to locate each house properly, requires no small amount of care, and no little expenditure of time and patience. The city has been thoroughly and faithfully canvassed, every residence and place of business having been visited, and neither time, care nor expense has been spared to make the work as reliable and attractive as possible.

It contains a review of the resources, industries, and the various interests of the city, a complete business and resident directory, a full list of the churches, educational institutions, orders and societies, etc., a complete post-office directory of Iowa, a new map of Des Moines, also cards of the leading business houses of the city.

There are 8,794 families in the city, which, (computed at 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ to the name, and this has been found by actual count to be the average) gives us to-day a population of 30,779, indicating a healthy growth, as the population given by the United States census in 1880 was 22,696, an increase in two years of 8,083, making Des Moines the largest city in Iowa.

We therefore congratulate our fellow citizens upon the unprecedented development of the city. The growth has been principally in the number and importance of our new railroads, new manufactures and wholesale houses, and the public improvements, all of which, together with the healthfulness and beauty of Des Moines as a place of residence, is attracting more people than any other city in Iowa, or the Northwest. The many changes in business and residence, and the great influx of population in our city from year to year, necessitates the publication of the Directory oftener than heretofore, and we shall henceforth issue it annually. We return thanks to all who have so kindly assisted us in obtaining the information, and to all who have so liberally supported the enterprise we extend our hearty acknowledgments.

Respectfully,

J. P. BUSHNELL.

DES MOINES.

THE CAPITAL AND METROPOLIS OF IOWA—THE GREAT RAILROAD
CENTER OF THE NORTH-WEST—HER MANUFACTURING RESOURCES AND BUSINESS INTERESTS.

GROWTH AND POPULATION.

The progress made by Des Moines during the year 1881, is a matter of gratification to our citizens. New railroads were added to our excellent facilities for transportation, many new factories and business houses were established in our midst, and business in all departments was very prosperous. Numerous elegant and commodious buildings were erected, for business or residence, and many strangers from abroad located in our city. The records of the year show an era of unprecedented prosperity. The following figures demonstrate the advance in population made by Des Moines: In 1850, the town contained 502 inhabitants; in 1860, 3,965; in 1870, 12,035; in 1875, 15,782; in 1880, 22,696, and to-day we can safely claim a population of ~~27,000~~ 27,000. Des Moines is the largest city in Iowa, and we doubt not the next United States census will show her population to be at least 50,000.

THE OUTLOOK.

The commercial outlook for the year 1882 is most encouraging. During the past year, more business blocks and manufactories were erected than during any year in our previous history. With the increase of transportation facilities, Des Moines has become the best radiating center for trade, in Iowa, and constitutes a supply depot for a large extent of territory. The orders received by our manufacturers and wholesale merchants last year exceeded their capacity to meet the demand, and there is urgent need of largely increased facilities for trade. Several of the largest factories and wholesale houses now in Des Moines located here last year, and present indications warrant us in the statement that more large industries will be added to the business interests of the city, and our trade and commerce will be widely extended during 1882. In proportion to the growth and prosperity in business circles, is the improvement in the residence portion of the city. Many imposing and elegant residences were built in 1881, while those of a smaller and less expensive class, can be counted by hundreds. Schools and colleges are enlarging, and in all departments of the city's life there is a steadily increasing development.

LOCATION AND EARLY HISTORY.

Des Moines is situated nearly in the center of the State, and in area includes twelve square miles. Two large rivers, six hundred feet wide, spanned by eight handsome, substantial bridges, unite within the corporate limits of the city, and from the confluence of these rivers, on either side, stretches a beautiful plateau, skirted by bluffs, rising by gentle acclivities on all sides, affording fine residence sites, while the level portion is extensive enough to accommodate the business of a large city. Never had a city fairer location or finer promise, and Des Moines now claims for herself indisputable pre-eminence among the cities of Iowa. This claim, however warmly contested in the past by other cities, is now conceded by all, and Des Moines is becoming more and more the center of Iowa life. Our central location, and our unrivalled railroad system, have contributed largely to this growth and prosperity. The first survey of the town was made July 8, 1846. On the 22d day of September, 1851, the citizens voted to have it incorporated as a town, and articles of incorporation were adopted by the people on the 8th day of October, 1851. The first election occurred October 20th of the same year. This was ratified by the Legislature in 1853, and in 1854 an act was passed by which Des Moines became the capital of the State. In 1857, the archives of the State were removed here from Iowa City and deposited in the new State House. During the same year, also, Des Moines was incorporated as a city.

The surrounding country is abundantly supplied with streams of the purest water; upon the banks of which are found numerous varieties of valuable timber. Underlying the whole city and the country adjacent are inexhaustible beds of coal. The Des Moines and Raccoon rivers furnish a never-failing water power, and clays and sands found in this vicinity are of superior quality.

Taking its location in such a field, its distance from any overshadowing city, and adding to these considerations the great natural advantages it has, in the inexhaustible supplies of coal for cheap motive power, and also its two rivers with the milling power to turn thousands of wheels, it is plain that it is marked by destiny as a future city of power and eminent rank. There is not a city in the United States that stands on a better basis or has a better country to support it, and we must recognize the importance of a location commanding the highways of the continent. It is already the metropolis of Iowa—the Eden of American agriculture.

RAILROADS.

Des Moines is pre-eminently a city of railroads, and the past year received such an impetus in this direction as has never been known in the history of an Iowa city, during a single year, and under the impetus given by the building of these roads into the capital, our city experienced a growth in population, wealth, manufacturing enterprises and general prosperity hitherto unknown. In February, 1854, the first engine crossed the Mississippi river at Davenport, on the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad. August 29th, 1866, the first train entered Des Moines over the Des Moines Valley road, now the Keokuk and Des Moines branch of the Rock Island. Since that time, the development of the railway system has been rapid, placing all points in the State in almost direct communication with this city. A glance at the map shows a network of roads extending in all directions, indicating our city as the railroad center of Iowa. These lines are developing some of the richest agricultural regions of the State, and gather into Des Moines an immense and growing traffic. The facilities this system gives to wholesale interests, manufacturing, coal mining, lumber, stock and grain shipments cannot now be fully estimated. With the increase of railway facilities, the cost of transportation has been greatly lessened, as the result of competition between the various lines. The hearty welcome that has been given in Iowa, to the movement for the establishment of a north and south system of railroads, shows that the people of the State are fully alive to the benefits to be derived from such a system. The reduction in freight charges to Des Moines recently made by the trunk lines extending through the State, has been favorable to the business interests of the city. If relief from high rates for transportation is to be expected from the acquisition of new railroads, Des Moines' prospect in this regard is certainly flattering, as last year witnessed the advent of four new roads, while an equal number are regarded as a certainty during the present year. We recognize the fact, that the railway possesses an almost unlimited power for usefulness, and nothing contributes more rapidly to the wealth and prosperity of a country than the iron horse. With eleven lines of railway, and others looking in this direction, there is every reason to believe that Des Moines will continue to attract the better classes.

With the extensive network of railroads centering in our city, together with our many natural resources, the advantages for the growth and prosperity of Des Moines are almost unlimited. The year 1882 promises to be unprecedented in railroad building for Iowa. The main lines of road in our State, nearly all of which touch Des Moines, are among the best equipped, having the most secure road-beds and the finest rolling stock in the United States, and the management rests with gentlemen of honor and experience in their business. The railroads of Des Moines extend in almost every direction, so that we can leave our city for Chicago, by any one of the trunk lines, arriving there about the same time and without change of cars. We can go to St. Louis by two different roads, and to St. Paul, Minneapolis or Milwaukee by either of two almost direct lines; to Kansas City, Leavenworth and the Southwest by either of three routes; and we can take any one of three principal roads for Council Bluffs, Denver and the Pacific Coast. The many roads centering here will ere long, unite in the building of a union depot.

The roads of Des Moines are the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific; Chicago & Northwestern; Chicago, Burlington & Quincy; Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific; Keokuk & Des Moines; Des Moines & Ft. Dodge; Des Moines Northwestern; Des Moines, Indianola & Missouri; Des Moines, Winterset & Southwestern; Des Moines, Osceola & Southern, and the St. Louis, Des Moines & Northern. The lines contemplated and in process of construction, are the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul; Burlington, Des Moines & Sioux City; Des Moines & Kansas City; Minnesota, Iowa & Southwestern, and the Des Moines & McGregor.

Thus our railroad facilities are superior to those of any in the State, which extends our trade hundreds of miles in every direction, opening many new and rich portions of the country, all tributary to the trade and commerce of our city.

Des Moines being characteristically a railroad center, it is expedient to include here, the following specific information regarding the roads entering the city.

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND AND PACIFIC.

This road entered Des Moines in September, 1867, and is one of the great trunk lines extending across Iowa, and connecting at Council Bluffs with the Union Pacific. The growth of business and commercial interests in the west, has made this road to rank among the first in the country. Their business during the past year, shows a remarkable increase, which has been advantageous not only to Des Moines, but to the entire State. They have made many improvements during the past year, in their road bed, in relaying the track with steel rails, and in the extension of their road, in various branches through the State. The road is equipped with all those essentials which pertain to first class accommodations, and the management gives evidence of the highest ability.

KEOKUK AND DES MOINES.

This is one of the important north and south lines of the State, and was the first road built to Des Moines, entering the city in August, 1866, being then known as the Des Moines Valley road. It is now one of the principal branches of the C., R. I. & P. R. R., has been put in the best condition, and is a road of much importance to Des Moines.

DES MOINES, INDIANOLA AND MISSOURI.

This is a branch of the Rock Island, extending south from Des Moines, and is an important feeder to that road. It is probable that this line will be extended southward at no distant day, as important towns in northern Missouri are looking to a connection with Des Moines via this route.

DES MOINES, WINTERSET AND SOUTHWESTERN.

This is also a branch of the C., R. I. & P. R. R., and active measures are now in progress for the speedy extension of this road southward to a connection with the railway system of Missouri. Its business during the past year has been great, for the extent of the line, and its advantage to Des Moines is highly appreciated by our citizens.

CHICAGO, BURLINGTON AND QUINCY.

This was the first road which crossed the Mississippi river at Burlington, and is one of the great trunk lines of Iowa, as well as one of the wealthiest corporations in the west, and to-day it is unexcelled by any railroad in the world for general excellence, quantity and quality of equipment, and everything necessary for the comfort and convenience of its patrons. The line is a popular one and will always be a competing road with any and all lines entering Des Moines, giving us direct communication with St. Louis as well as Chicago.

CHICAGO AND NORTHWESTERN.

Des Moines is fortunate in this addition to her railway facilities, and this road is an active and powerful competitor for eastern and western bound passenger and freight business. It was the first of the three great trunk lines to extend its road across the State, and to connect with the Union Pacific at Council Bluffs. This is one of the great corporations of the country, and its lines extend not only where trade and commerce will at present justify, but it also acts as a pioneer in developing new territory. It has contributed also to the reduction of freights, giving our merchants the advantage of another competing eastern route. It is noted for the speed and comfort which it secures to its patrons, is under able and energetic management, and is constantly extending its field of operations.

DES MOINES AND FT. DODGE.

This is one of the most important north and south lines in the State, and the business of the past year shows the great advantage of the road, not only to Des Moines, but to the entire State, as it connects with the lines running east and west. This road has been of practical benefit to our city, and our citizens and business men appreciate it. The company proposes an extension of the road north to a connection with Milwaukee and St. Paul, which will open trade with the pineries, and also furnish a market for the immense coal mines of Des Moines and Central Iowa.

WABASH, ST. LOUIS AND PACIFIC.

Only those persons who have given the subject careful study, can realize the importance of this road to Des Moines, not only giving us a shorter and cheaper outlet to the sea-board for our products, but also another direct and through line to St. Louis, New York and Chicago. This new outlet of transportation opens to our trade, a new field of operations for our manufacturers and business men. We quote the following in regard to this road, from the Iowa State Register:

Only those who have thought the subject out to the end, realize the great good that the Wabash road will bring Des Moines. It means St. Louis wrestling with Chicago on Iowa ground, and it means St. Louis backed by New Orleans and English capital as against Chicago backed by New York capital. Aye, it means more than this. It means the arrival of the time for a separation of Chicago and New York or a separation of their interests, for now comes up a rivalry as between the old allies as to which shall best take care of itself in this new time; so that it will not be simply Chicago contesting in Des Moines and Iowa with St. Louis for trade, but it also means New York itself contesting here with both of its rivals. It must hold its own, if it can, and to do that it must fight for it. Fortunately for it, too, the entrance of the Wabash into Iowa gives a through line to Des Moines, independent of Chicago, so that it can deal with this city direct, and this city with it. So that while the Wabash will bring us a shorter and cheaper outlet for our grain, it will also bring us a direct and through line to New York, under one management, for what commerce we may have with it.

And New York will come even to Des Moines to contest with Chicago and St. Louis and Europe for Iowa business. Then will there spring up a direct trade with this city and New York. When the Wabash comes it will bring through cars from New York, and before a year we expect to see Pullman cars standing on the tracks in Des Moines to make through trips from Des Moines to New York—without going through Chicago or stopping on the way, and making the time in less than two days. That's a part of what the Wabash in Des Moines will mean.

DES MOINES NORTHWESTERN.

This is a part of the great Wabash system, extending from Des Moines into the rich agricultural region northwest of this point through the counties of northwestern Iowa, where it is cordially welcomed as a valuable accessory to the development of that portion of the State. It is being rapidly extended into the great wheat-growing regions of Minnesota and Dakota.

ST. LOUIS, DES MOINES AND NORTHERN.

This is another branch of the Wabash line, extending north to Boone, and it is proposed to extend this line through northern Iowa and Minnesota to St. Paul. This will give a direct line from St. Louis to St. Paul via Des Moines, by means of the Wabash. The road is designed to operate in connection with the barge lines from St. Louis, and work is being rapidly pushed forward to a speedy completion of this route. Trains are now running to a point twenty miles north of Des Moines.

DES MOINES, OSCEOLA AND SOUTHERN.

This road opens to us a field of rich territory and adds largely to the aggregate value of our network of railways. It is anticipated that this line will be extended southwest from Osceola to St. Joseph or Kansas City, giving us another important southwestern connection.

RAILROADS IN PROSPECT.

DES MOINES AND KANSAS CITY.

This proposed road will be one of great importance to our city, and will, we understand, be entirely independent of all other lines now centering here. The survey has been completed, and the work of construction will soon be commenced and pushed forward as rapidly as capital and labor can accomplish it.

MINNESOTA, IOWA AND SOUTHWESTERN.

A company was recently organized and incorporated under the laws of Iowa and Minnesota for the purpose of building a railroad from LaCrescent, Minn., opposite the city of LaCrosse, Wis., through to a connection at Des Moines with a proposed line to Kansas City, and thus gain a through line, from the Mississippi to the Missouri river, intersecting this State from northeast to southwest. This line will connect the great lumber producing regions of Wisconsin with the Iowa coal fields, and also the stock raising districts of Kansas and the southwest.

WISCONSIN, IOWA AND NEBRASKA.

This road will give direct connection between Des Moines and the northeastern and southwestern portions of Iowa, and will be one of very great importance. Indeed no road could be built which would be of more importance or more beneficial to Des Moines than this will be. It is surprising that a road whose usefulness is so apparent, and which will pass through a country so rich, should not have been built long before this. This will be the first road to give direct connection between the central and the northeastern and southwestern portions of the State, and from our knowledge of the men who have the management, we believe the road will be pushed to a speedy completion, opening up by shorter routes the lumber regions of the north to all central and southern Iowa, and affording also an outlet to the northeast and southwest to the coal of central Iowa, and giving the two railroad connections necessary to complete the railway system of Des Moines.

CHICAGO, MILWAUKEE AND ST. PAUL.

This company, which we believed should have built their road into Des Moines before this date, have changed their route somewhat, running north of this city, directly west, between the C., R. I. & P. R. R. and O. & N. W. R. R., but we have been informed that they intend to build a branch into Des Moines at an early date. From the importance to this road, of connection with the network of roads in this city, and of securing a southern and southwestern outlet, we feel reasonably sure of this road, the present year, and we hope it may be built. Another connection with the markets of Milwaukee and St. Paul will be of great benefit to Des Moines.

MINNEAPOLIS AND ST. LOUIS.

This is another important road connecting Central Iowa with Minneapolis and St. Paul, and the lumber regions of the north. One of the principal objects in the building of this road, was to reach the rich coal fields in this section. It is now completed to Coaltown, a point a short distance from Des Moines. The object of the company is to build a road from Minneapolis, through Minnesota and Iowa, to both St. Louis and Kansas City. The line south from the present terminus has not yet been definitely located, but we believe that either the main line or a branch of it, will be built into Des Moines this year.

FAST FREIGHT LINES.

Five lines have established agencies in Des Moines, the Union and National Through Freight Lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, the Erie and Pacific Dispatch, the Great Western Dispatch, and the Merchant's Dispatch, representing the Erie Railway Company. These lines contract for freight to be delivered to New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Albany, and the principal eastern cities of the United States, and all European points. They ship all perishable goods, such as butter, eggs, fruits, poultry, &c., in superior refrigerator cars. The question, of transportation, and of the quickest and cheapest routes, are and always will be of primary importance in connection with successful business. These agencies afford increased facilities for carrying, and impart additional vigor to trade. These lines are represented in this city by gentlemen of enterprise and recognized ability in business management.

TRANSPORTATION BY THE MISSISSIPPI RIVER.

The importance of this movement as regards its effect upon Iowa products can hardly be over-estimated, and it is now attracting general attention all over the West and Northwest. When this fertile portion of the country is placed in connection with the barge lines of the Mississippi river, all classes will appreciate the great benefits of the line.

The Mississippi Valley Transportation Company is entitled to the claim of being the first company organized for the transportation of grain and cereals from the great West, via St. Louis, to New Orleans for European transportation; and from a very small beginning a magnificent and profitable business has been developed.

The general understanding is, that the river can carry grain to European ports for what the ordinary rail carriage would be from the Mississippi River to New York.

The barge system is, however, merely in its infancy, and, without doubt, it has capabilities that have not yet been reached, so that it is fair to suppose that the minimum of cost for transportation on the river has not yet been arrived at, and still further reductions will, no doubt, in time be realized.

The importance, then, of the barge lines can scarcely be over estimated.

We append an article on this subject from the "New Orleans Times:"

Transportation by barges on the Mississippi river has become the solution of the great problem of restoring to the river its great highway for the commerce of the west. The palatial steamers that float on its waters and once monopolized the freight and passenger traffic of the Mississippi valley, having found themselves unable to compete in cheap freights with the railways, and still less unable to compete in speed, were placed at a great disadvantage, and forced to abandon all the transportation business except that which the railways could not reach, or did not possess the ability to carry.

The railways crossing the country at right angles to the course of the river, and reaching the Atlantic seaboard at the nearest and the most convenient points, became the great carriers of the products of the Mississippi valley, and poured into eastern ports much of the commerce that had once sought New Orleans. This city, for years without a railway reaching out to the rich and rapidly growing regions of the west and northwest, and finding commerce diverted more and more from the river route, seemed to have left but one hope; and that was to restore to the river the capacity to transport freights more cheaply than could be done by the railways. The successful solution to this problem has been found in the barge line.

Now, a small, cheaply handled, but powerful steam tug, with a very small crew, will move upon the river in one tow six enormous barges, carrying at least 40,000 bushels of grain each, or an aggregate of a quarter of a million bushels as a single cargo. The machinery for doing this business is so simple and inexpensive, when compared with the palatial steamboats of the old style, with their costly appointments and numerous crews that once would have been required to do the work, it is readily seen how vast a reduction of expense has been accomplished.

MANUFACTURING.

We are pleased to notice the progress of our home manufacturing, and our people appreciate the value and importance of this great interest. New factories are springing up rapidly and the old ones are increasing their capacity and works to meet the demand. Our great agricultural resources make this a most profitable field for manufacturing. Situated in the center of the State, in one of the richest agricultural regions of the world, where is found an inexhaustible supply of the best coal, even within the limits of the city, as fine a water power as there is in the country, large bodies of timber along our main water courses, convenient of access to the city, and suitable for manufacturing purposes or for fuel; and having railroads leading east, west, north and south, with intermediate lines in progress of construction, and in contemplation, Des Moines is the very place to which manufacturers should come. Good screened coal can be had for five to seven cents per bushel, and best lump coal for eight cents for manufacturing. All articles of food and provisions are in the market at greatly reduced rates, in comparison with the eastern markets. The success of the factories already established and the rapid settlement of the adjacent country, are warrants for the establishment of many more. Our starch factories, flour and oat meal mills are shipping all over the world; our plows, drills, corn planters, and other machinery, are ordered in large quantities from all parts of the country. Manufacturing lies at the foundation of industrial life in all towns that flourish. It means a manufacturing population which would otherwise be elsewhere—an aggregation of people in cities and villages. These people are to be fed. They want precisely what the farmer has to sell; they provide him the very market he desires, and either directly or indirectly, benefit all classes. Our broad acres of cheap lands give us a great surplus of agricultural and meat products, and our labor-saving machinery and the skill and ingenuity of our artisans enable us to increase our manufactured products and reduce the cost, to successfully compete in quality, quantity and price with the old established manufactories of Europe.

COAL.

Des Moines is situated in the center of the great coal fields of Iowa, and the mining of coal is one of the principal industries of the city. There are seventeen mines in operation in this vicinity, employing about twelve hundred men, and the value of the coal mined here last year was over $1,055,000. Polk county has the three great coal measures of the State underlying its territory, and the veins vary from three to eight feet in thickness. The coal is the best quality of bituminous, and is unexcelled by any found west of the Mississippi. Coal for manufacturing purposes can be obtained at $1.50 per ton; and slack much cheaper.

WATER POWER.

A dam six hundred feet long having a fall of eight feet, was built across the Des Moines river several years ago, giving a power sufficient to keep in motion large manufacturing establishments, employing thousands of operatives, and to-day the only use made of this power is in the operation of a large flouring mill and a saw mill at the west end of the dam. The State confers upon water power improvement companies the power to condemn land for the right of way for canals, water ways, buildings and other necessary purposes, a power as ample as that exercised by railroad companies. The east end of the dam having the same power is now idle, but presents a rare opportunity for manufacturing enterprises. The organization of a company for the purpose of building a race to increase the facilities for manufacturing is contemplated. By raising the dam one or two feet, which can be done under the charter, additional power can be secured sufficient to operate almost unlimited machinery. If such a company were organized, the power could be rented to manufacturers at from one-half to one-fifth the cost of steam power.

CLAYS.

Clay of excellent quality for the manufacture of brick, abounds in this section, which fact is apparent in the number and extent of our brick yards. Not only common brick of the best quality are manufactured in abundance, but also pressed brick. Nearly all the finest buildings in Des Moines are of brick, manufactured in this vicinity, which for durability and general excellence are unsurpassed. Fire clay also exists here, as well as potter's clay, which is found in abundance, and the products of our extensive potteries amount to thousands of dollars annually. Last year they manufactured 1,600,000 gallons of ware. We have the largest drain tile works in the State, and the product of these establishments is in great demand throughout the country, and the same is true of our artificial stone and sewerage pipe works. Clay for the manufacture of mineral paints, is also found here. It is well known that wherever bituminous coal is abundant, there also exists excellent clay suitable for making the finer grades of brick, and for terra cotta, and this is found to be the fact in this locality, this quality of clay being found here in liberal quantities.

SANDS.

Sand suitable for the manufacture of glass, is found of superior quality and in great abundance near this city. By actual test, the glass manufactured from this sand, has been shown to be of superior quality to that made from sand found in other States, and this with the other advantages possessed by Des Moines should be an inducement for the location of large glass works at this point. The sand found on the banks of our two rivers is largely used in the manufacture of artificial stone:

FLOURING MILLS.

The increasing facilities for the shipment of grain from the great wheat growing districts of the northwest, enables our millers to successfully compete with other sections of the country in the production of flour, and as they have the latest and most improved machinery, the product of our mills is equal in quality to the best produced elsewhere in the northwest. They can now manufacture about three hundred barrels per day, but expect to largely increase their capacity this year, as the demand is greatly in excess of their ability to supply.

OAT MEAL MILLS.

We have but one mill for the manufacture of oat meal, but some idea may be gained of the vast amount of business they transacted last year when we state that it amounted to over $100,000. This mill has an elevator connected with it which will hold 280,000 bushels, and a side track of the Rock Island railroad is laid along the south side of this building and the Wabash on the north side, which greatly facilitate the handling of grain. The superior quality of the oat meal manufactured here, is evident from the fact that their orders are so large as to necessitate the operation of the mill day and night.

STARCH FACTORY.

This is a most valuable acquisition to the manufacturing interests of Des Moines. The company has purchased forty acres of ground in the city, and erected an immense building at an expense of one hundred thousand dollars, and machinery is rapidly being put in position, and arrangements perfected for business. This factory will consume thirty-five hundred bushels of corn per day, and they have erected a large elevator in connection with their works, for the storage of the immense amount of corn necessary for the prosecution of their business. The corn crop of Iowa is easiest of access here, the water supply good, coal in any quantity, railway facilities are the best, both for bringing material to the works and shipping the manufactured product. This will be the largest establishment of the kind west of New York, and will employ one hundred and twenty-five men.

HOMINY MILLS.

These mills use none but the whitest of corn for the production of hominy, which is of superior excellence and the demand for their product far exceeds their capacity. Their business last year amounted to $60,000.

SYRUP AND GLUCOSE WORKS.

This company occupies a brick building three stories high, and 100x160 feet, located in the southeastern part of the city. They use fifteen hundred bushels of corn daily, yet they find the demands of trade fully equal to their ample facilities for an extensive business. This industry is becoming very important throughout the country.

CRACKER MANUFACTURERS.

We have two firms engaged in the manufacture of crackers for the trade. These goods are unexcelled by any in the market, and the demand for them is constantly increasing.

IRON WORKS.

Among the most important of our manufactories are the iron works, of which there are six establishments. During the past year they were crowded to their utmost capacity, and several firms anticipate an enlargement of their works this spring. Des Moines iron works ship machinery to all parts of the west. In addition to these manufactories there are three firms in the city engaged in the manufacture of and they report business very prosperous, and orders crowding them to the fullest extent, as the large mining and general manufacturing interests of the city and State create a large demand for steam boilers.

PLOW FACTORIES.

The four railroads which came to Des Moines last year opened new territory which they render tributary to this city, and which largely increases the demand upon our manufacturers and dealers for agricultural implements of all varieties, and although we have three large factories for the manufacture of plows, cultivators, harrows, etc., with facilities for doing an extensive business, yet they are unable to keep pace with the demands of the trade. Their business last year amounted to $138,000. This locality affords an excellent opportunity for the establishment of large agricultural works.

BARBED WIRE.

Among the largest and most prominent industries of Des Moines is the manufacture of bared wire for fencing purposes. We have two firms engaged in this business, one of them being very extensive, and their product in 1881 amounted to six million five hundred thousand pounds. The immense buildings erected specially for this enterprise, are already becoming too small for their increasing business, as their trade extends to all the western States, north and south. This is a business which must necessarily increase in importance under the rapid development of the country tributary.

WAGON AND CARRIAGE FACTORIES.

We have three houses engaged in this important branch of manufacture, who have acquired a well-merited popularity throughout the city and State for the superior quality, and uniform reliability of their vehicles, from a handsome phaeton to a heavy transfer wagon. Many of the finest carriages seen on our streets are the workmanship of Des Moines artisans, and they also manufacture farm and spring wagons and buggies of various styles.

SCALE WORKS.

Two firms in Des Moines are engaged in the manufacture of all varieties of scales, making a specialty of railroad and other large scales. They also make farm scales, which for accuracy and durability, are not surpassed by any received here from eastern factories. They have in their large buildings every facility for doing first class work, and the product of these factories is creditable to home industry.

TINWARE.

The sales of tinware manufactured in this city in 1881, aggregated the sum of $225,000, and we have one firm engaged exclusively in this industry, which is the largest west of Chicago, their trade extending throughout the West. The advantages they possess enable them to execute orders with the utmost promptness, besides which they always carry in stock a large amount of finished work of every variety.

FILE WORKS.

We have one house engaged in the exclusive manufacture of files, for which they use the best Ames steel. The works are operated by steam power, and as they are constantly filling orders for jobbers in all directions, the increase of their business necessitated the erection of new buildings last year, and the employment of more men and machinery.

LINSEED OIL MILLS.

The rich soil of Iowa and especially the central portion of the State is well adapted to the growth of flax, which is one of the most profitable crops the farmer can raise. We have two establishments devoted to the manufacture of linseed oil and oil cake, and a third to the purchase and shipment of flaxseed to eastern oil works. These mills used last year 130,000 bushels of seed, which produced 150,000 gallons of oil and 2,700 tons of oil cake. A ready market is found for all the oil which they can produce, and although at present much of the cake is shipped to foreign markets, yet it is rapidly becoming popular at home as feed for stock, and large quantities are sold to dairymen, stock raisers and farmers. These firms furnish seed to farmers in order to encourage the growth of this crop.

MILL FURNISHINGS.

Two houses here are engaged in this industry, employing about forty-five men, and have built up a business which is not only creditable and profitable to themselves, but of value to the city also. With the advancing tide of business in Des Moines, their buildings are becoming too small for their increasing trade, necessitating additional machinery and enlarged accommodations.

GALVANIZED IRON CORNICE.

Great perfection has been attained in this line of manufacturing, and we have three houses engaged in the business, whose work is unsurpassed. The process to which the iron is subjected obviates the tendency to oxidation, and renders it peculiarly adapted for dormer windows, doors and window caps, cornice and all kinds of front ornaments.

SLATE ROOFING.

The Des Moines slate roofers are unsurpassed in their artistic and beautiful work. Many of our finest residences and public buildings, give evidence of their superiority in this line of work.

PLANING MILLS.

A branch of business which largely increased in our city during the past year, is the manufacture of sash, doors, blinds, stairs, etc. The establishments here, in their business last year aggregated nearly $200,000. About one hundred men are employed in this industry, and their trade extends throughout a large territory of the Northwest. One firm has just put in place an immense new boiler in addition to their large works, another has made extensive improvements and addition to their buildings, while the third contemplates the erection of new buildings this year, to accommodate their rapidly increasing trade. They all attribute their increase in business to the general prosperity of the city and the country, as well as to the additional transportation facilities of Des Moines.

PUMPS.

In the manufacture of these indispensable articles two houses are engaged, one of which produces wooden, and the other iron pumps. These pumps are of excellent workmanship, and the manufacturers do a business of about $28,000, but they are unable to supply the demand for these goods at home.

CREAMERIES.

The magnitude of this business can scarcely be realized as it is of comparatively recent origin and remarkably rapid growth throughout the country. Two of the largest creameries in Central Iowa, are located in Des Moines, and are supplied with pure milk and cream by farmers from the surrounding country. The utmost cleanliness is secured in all departments, and in the immense amount of milk they use, no adulteration is permitted, and the consequence is that they manufacture a most delicious article of butter, for which they find a ready market to meet the increasing demand.

SPICE MILLS.

We have one firm which is located in a spacious warehouse, fully equipped with the latest improved machinery, and appliances for roasting and grinding coffees, and manufacturing pure spices and baking powder. The process used at these mills insures absolute purity, while they retain the original strength, and the most pungent and valuable qualities and from personal knowledge of their spices coffees, and baking powder, we feel warranted in the statement that for these qualities they are very popular wherever they are known. Their baking powder has been pronounced by actual test to be of the highest standard of quality in the market. Their business has increased year by year since it was established in this city.

BREWERIES.

Des Moines has four large breweries which have an extensive trade along the lines of the various railroads, as well as in the city. Their business aggregated last year $327,500.

DISTILLERIES.

One large distillery in this city consumes in the manufacture of alcohol, fifteen hundred bushels of grain per day, and the daily tax to the government upon the product of this establishment is nearly three thousand dollars. They are feeding fifteen hundred head of cattle this year. Another distillery is now nearly completed, which when finished will be the largest in the world. It will give employment to more than one hundred men and will use about five thousand bushels of corn per day. Cattle sheds sufficient for the accommodation of seven thousand cattle have been built in connection with these works, and will soon be filled, as the company is now nearly ready for business.

TANNERIES.

Des Moines contains some important houses dealing in leather for the use of harness and collar manufacturers, and in satisfying the demands of the trade, the Des Moines tannery has an important share. This establishment compares favorably with others in the same line of business in the West, and makes a specialty of harness leather. The increasing demands of trade necessitates increased facilities for supply, and it is the intention of the proprietors to enlarge their works this spring.

DYE WORKS.

We have three establishments for dyeing cloths, which are operated by steam, and are thoroughly fitted and prepared to do coloring in all its details. They do a good business in the line of custom work, and also in re-coloring shelf goods for merchants and milliners.

CIGARS.

Among the enterprising manufacturers of the city, are seven houses devoted to the manufacture of cigars, and in consequence of the excellent quality of the cigars here prepared for market, comprising all the standard and reliable brands, they have an extensive trade throughout the Northwest, which last year amounted to $197,450. They use carefully selected leaf, and employ skilled workmen, in consequence of which their goods are unsurpassed.

SOAP FACTORIES.

No article of manufacture commands a more ready sale than soap, and in this branch of industry two houses in Des Moines are engaged, having all the necessary buildings and facilities for an extensive business, and they place upon the market a superior article of soap. The product of these two soap factories has rapidly grown in public favor, as the large orders they are constantly receiving, for all grades of staple and fancy soaps, fully demonstrates.

TRUNKS.

An establishment for the manufacture of trunks has recently located in Des Moines, where they are meeting with well merited success in their business, as they manufacture an excellent grade of trunks, valises, traveling bags, shawl straps and other articles pertaining to this line of business. They propose to make and keep on hand good work in the best styles and variety.

PAPER BOXES.

The manufacture of paper boxes was lately inaugurated in this city, and as these goods in every style and variety are always in demand, the firm will no doubt be eminently successful in their undertaking.

PAINT WORKS.

Des Moines recently received a valuable accession to her manufacturing interests, in the establishment of an extensive paint manufactory at this point. This house has storage for ten thousand gallons, and they manufacture daily five hundred gallons of paint, ready for the brush. Their machinery, including twenty large sheet iron storage tanks, was all manufactured to their order, in this city; their packing cases are also manufactured in this city. The oils which they use are of the best quality, and were produced by Des Moines oil mills. Although this industry is of comparatively recent introduction here, yet the business thus far exceeds all expectations of the proprietors.

WOOLEN MILLS.

Des Moines is rapidly gaining a reputation as a commercial metropolis, and during the last few years has made immense strides in securing and retaining the trade of this section. Not the least important branch of industry, and one deserving recognition, is the woollen factory which located here during the past year, establishing themselves in a large three story brick block, being one of the largest factories in the West.

BROOMS.

The manufacture of brooms has become an important industry in Des Moines, and gives employment to a large force of workmen. Two houses are engaged in making brooms of every description, and they produce an article which meets with universal favor.

BUSINESS INTERESTS.

Des Moines has rapidly yet substantially grown into prominence as one of the leading cities of the West. The primitive log stores have given place to the capacious warehouse of the merchant, and the traffic in a few necessities has expanded into a business which calls upon all climes to contribute to its multitudinous wants. The year 1881 has added half a million to our banking capital, and this fact will attract new capital in other lines of business. Next to railroad facilities, banking facilities are perhaps most important to the business growth of a city. Our progress has of late been most marked in the direction of wholesale trade and manufactures, all of which are in a prosperous condition. New factories are springing up, and all have orders from home and abroad for their fullest capacity. The immense trade that centers here, is supported by the country for hundreds of miles in extent, reaching out into the territories beyond. With the rapid growth which Des Moines has made in the past few years, and with the many iron arms extending in almost every direction, reaching out for the trade not only of Iowa, but of the entire Northwest, for wholesaling goods and distributing manufactured products, our city is one of the best points in the country for the location of wholesale houses, and manufactories of all kinds. Four new railroads were added in 1881, to our transportation facilities, giving us communication north, south, east and west.

There has never been a period in the history of Des Moines when business men in such large numbers have come within our borders, many establishing large industries, and many more expecting to locate here as soon as time and circumstances will permit.

The growth and development of our city is due, to a great extent, to its commanding position as the center of a grand system of railroads, and by means of these highways of commerce and civilization, Des Moines reaches the trade of a vast territory naturally tributary, in the most productive area on the continent, and in one of the best stock-raising and grain-producing regions of the world.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

It is almost impossible to obtain accurate statistics of this great exchange in our city, as the railroad companies have not kept a separate account of the receipts and shipments of grain from this point. The commission houses here have not all kept a full account of receipts and shipments, but from the reports of the grain dealers and what we could learn from the commission men, we find that the business for the year, as nearly as could be ascertained, amounted to $2,770,250. The corn consumed by the alcohol works, the glucose works, and the barley by the brewers are not included in the above figures. Also, many farmers bring their grain to the city and ship it direct to eastern markets by the car load. The glucose and alcohol works used, last year, about thirty-five hundred bushels of corn per day. The amount consumed by these establishments, together with the new alcohol works, two of the largest establishments in the country, will no doubt reach about twenty thousand bushels per day during the year 1882.

PORK PACKING.

Des Moines ranks with the leading cities of the west, in the business of packing pork, and being situated in the center of the hog raising country, and possessed of such superior advantages for shipment, the facilities for the prosecution of this important business are unrivalled. During the past year their business amounted to $2,563,000, and their immense ice houses are now filled with ice preparatory to the continuance of business during the warm season.

LUMBER TRADE.

The rapid settlement of Iowa, especially of the newer portions in the western and northwestern parts, and also the great mining interests of the state, necessarily create an extensive demand for lumber, and the advantages afforded by Des Moines, as a commercial center by her unrivalled facilities for shipment, make it especially convenient and profitable as a lumber market. We have four of the most extensive lumber firms in the west engaged in the business in Des Moines, whose business connections extend not only throughout Iowa, but the western and southern states, and they are constantly increasing the scope of their operations, and opening new fields in various parts of the country.

WHOLESALE GROCERS.

There is probably no more important branch of commerce in the country than the trade in groceries, giving employment to large numbers of persons, and representing immense capital. The magnitude and extent of the business operations of our wholesale grocery houses, of which we have five, renders this an important feature of the mercantile activity which characterizes Des Moines. The amount of their business last year was $2,225,000.

WHOLESALE FURNITURE.

The growth of this western country caused by the building of railroads, by immigration, by the establishment of manufacturing and other important enterprises, creates a steady demand for all classes of furniture, which can be purchased in Des Moines as cheap as from eastern houses. The wholesale houses dealing in furniture are so prosperous that although they now occupy large buildings, the erection this spring of another building five stories in height to accommodate the increasing business, is contemplated.

WHOLESALE MILLINERY.

This branch of wholesale trade has three large representatives in our city, whose business extends not only throughout Iowa, but all the adjacent states. These firms are composed of energetic, practical business men, and their business, in common with other wholesale interests of the city is constantly enlarging.

WHOLESALE NOTIONS.

Perhaps there is no term applied to a business or industry, which is so peculiarly American as that of "Yankee Notions," and while it would be almost impossible to enumerate the various articles which come under this designation, it includes an almost unlimited variety, which are essential in some way to every productive enterprise and every household. These must have their supply from our important jobbing and manufacturing centers, and hence it is that we find four extensive establishments in Des Moines engaged in supplying the demand for this class of goods.

WHOLESALE DRUGGISTS.

The magnitude and importance of the wholesale drug trade is not generally appreciated by those not directly connected with the business. In this city three houses are engaged in this business, presided over by men of keen perceptions, and excellent judgment, combined with long experience in the handling of drugs and chemicals, and the stock they carry is so full and complete that they are enabled to fill orders of a large and varied description without delay.

WHOLESALE BOOTS AND SHOES.

As a source of supply for the article of boots and shoes suited to the markets, this city occupies a conspicuous position, and attracts dealers from all parts of the northwest. Three houses are engaged in supplying the wholesale demand for this class of goods, and with ample capital to meet all requirements, this business is destined to a constant increase of trade, thus contributing largely to the credit of Des Moines as a base of supplies.

WHOLESALE SADDLERY AND LEATHER.

While Des Moines has been making unparalleled strides during the past few years, the wholesale houses engaged in the sale of leather and saddlery goods, of which there are three, have kept pace with the rapid advancement, and are a credit to the city. The goods they handle are unsurpassed in the northwest, and give entire satisfaction.

WHOLESALE SEEDS.

Two houses deal exclusively in all varieties of farm, garden and flower seeds, and as they raise their seeds in this vicinity, they are able to warrant them to be strictly pure in quality and true to name. Several of our agricultural implement houses, also wholesale farm and garden seeds, and the trade in this class of goods reaches throughout a large extent of territory.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS—WHOLESALE.

The production of agricultural machinery has made wonderful revolutions in farming, every farm being now supplied to a greater or less extent, with these essentials, and Des Moines has located within her midst four enterprising business houses, who wholesale this class of goods. The new territory opened to this market by the construction of new railroads, and the extension of numerous feeders to existing lines, together with an unparalleled tide of immigration, productive of extensive development and cultivation of new lands, insures a greater demand for agricultural machinery than ever before.

WHOLESALE JEWELRY.

We have but one house which is devoted exclusively to wholesale jewelry, but this is undoubtedly the largest and most complete establishment of this kind in the state, and one which will compare favorably with the leading jewelry houses of the country. They import goods direct from European markets, and are enabled to please the most fastidious.

ICE COMPANIES.

Immense quantities of ice are consumed in the city during the warm season, and this is furnished by two companies, in addition to which they also ship large quantities to other cities. Thousands of tons are also put up by the pork packers, brewers and other large consumers. Fortunately for the health of the city, the ice is taken from the two rivers here, and is clear and pure.

TRANSFER COMPANIES.

Five large and well disciplined transfer companies handle the immense amounts of freight to and from the manufactories and business houses and the depots, doing a general freight and transfer business.

OMNIBUS LINE.

No better line of omnibuses can be found in any part of the country than in our city. They are always at the depots at the arrival and departure of trains, day or night, to take passengers to any part of the city. They have kept pace with the city's progress in furnishing transportation accommodations for all occasions.

NEWSPAPERS.

Des Moines is especially favored with progressive newspapers, and to its live, enterprising newspaper fraternity the city owes much for its present prosperity. Perhaps in no department of business has more rapid progress been made than in that of journalism, which is a sure indicator of the intelligence and progressive spirit of a people. The press is a potent agency in Des Moines, and is earnestly and intelligently at work to promote the best interests of the city. There are now three daily papers, one semi-weekly, ten weekly papers, and six monthlies published in the city. They are edited with ability, and with a just appreciation of the prominent position they occupy as public educators. The following is the list of papers published here: Iowa State Register, daily and weekly; Iowa State Leader, daily and weekly; Des Moines News, daily; State Journal, semi-weekly; Iowa Homestead, weekly; Iowa Capital, weekly; Staats Anzeiger, weekly; Plain Talk, weekly; Saturday Evening Mail Car, weekly; Iowa State Tribune, weekly; Western Jurist, monthly; The Analyst, monthly; and the Des Moines Railway Gazette, monthly; Palm Tree, Grand Army Advocate, monthly; Western Pulpit and Pew, monthly; Western Farm and Stock Journal, monthly. The Western Newspaper Union, auxiliary publishers of Iowa and Nebraska weekly papers.

POST OFFICE.

The United States Court House and Post Office is a fine structure built of Joliet stone, three stories and basement, at an expense of $200,000, and is occupied by the post office department, the United States Courts, and all United States officers residing here. This building is noted as a model post office in every detail, and although the amount of business transacted here is very large, yet so systematically and efficiently is the work of transmitting the mails conducted, that it leaves no cause for complaint. The following figures show the amount of business transacted here in 1881: gross revenue $55,157.54, office expenses $9,733.58; expenses of free delivery $6,997.14; total expenses $16,730.72, leaving a net revenue of $38,426.82.

BANKS.

A commercial city is always to a great degree dependent upon its banking facilities, which, in Des Moines, are amply supplied by seven banks of undoubted financial stability; and the wisdom of whose management has been endorsed by success. The banking capital was increased $500,000 last year. The stockholders are among our best business men, of undoubted integrity and careful and prudent business management. The following is the list of banks: Citizens National, Iowa National, Valley Bank, Des Moines National, Des Moines Bank, Capital City, and Merchants National.

LOAN ASSOCIATIONS.

There are three of these associations in our city, which loan not only the surplus money of our capitalists, but also of Eastern corporations. Money can be obtained at a low rate of interest. These associations are included with the banks among the solid financial institutions of our city.

BUILDING ASSOCIATIONS.

There are five first-class loan and building associations in Des Moines, all of which have rendered valuable assistance in building up our city. The object of these organizations is to aid any of their stockholders in their efforts to secure a home, by lending money to them at a low rate of interest, to be paid in weekly, monthly or yearly installments. The money is loaned only to stockholders. There are hundreds in Des Moines to-day dwelling in their own homes, who, but for these institutions, might not be thus fortunate.

REAL ESTATE.

The transactions in real estate during the year assumed large proportions. City property is in good demand and large operations in real estate for manufacturing purposes, etc., are recorded. There are numberless inviting locations surrounded by native groves, overlooking beautiful scenery, or the business portions of the city, for residences; and lots, though in great demand, can be obtained at reasonable rates in a desirable location for business or manufacturing purposes.

The transactions by months are given here below, for 1881:

January.....	$ 148,241	July.....	262,357
February.....	199,640	August.....	236,149
March.....	255,789	September.....	156,369

May.....	272,720	November.....	184,283
June.....	292,300	December.....	184,249
Total.....			$2,626,816

TAXATION.

The rate of taxation on real estate, on the cash valuation was 2.2 per cent for 1881.

HOME INSURANCE COMPANIES.

The position occupied by the home insurance companies of Des Moines is such that in describing the commercial, manufacturing and financial advantages of the city, it would be impossible to omit mention of these institutions, which have contributed so largely to the solvency and solidity of our mercantile enterprises, affording that protection and security, guaranteed only by the most reliable organizations of this character. The older companies, the Hawkeye and State (fire) and the Equitable (life) are particularly deserving of mention, having done much for Des Moines, and as their settlements have been promptly and liberally made, the utmost confidence on the part of the public has been established. More recent organizations are the Guaranty, the Western Mutual Aid Society, the Iowa Mutual Benefit Association (life) and the Des Moines Insurance Company (lightning and tornado), all of which are doing a good business, and are worthy of the confidence and patronage of the public.

HOTELS.

There is nothing which adds more to the prestige of a city than first class hotel accommodations, and in this respect it may be said with pride that Des Moines can justly claim eminent superiority over any city in the state. Our hotels are noted for their excellence in all those essentials which pertain to first class accommodations. The locations, accessibility, and general management have brought them a reputation second to none in the state. Their tables present the very best viands the market affords, served in unexceptionable style. But at the present time when a large percentage of the business men of the country reside temporarily or permanently in hotels, and when the largest and best buildings in the larger cities are devoted to the entertainment of the traveling public, it is necessary for every smaller city to see that sufficient hotel accommodations are provided for all probable visitors, and while our hotel facilities are excellent, they are no more than we need for our daily business, and it often occurs during the year, when state meetings of various organizations are held here, that our hotels are unable to properly accommodate all who come. And this need is becoming more and more imperative with the increasing demand caused by the growth of business in our city. The following are the leading hotels of Des Moines: The Aborn, Kirkwood, Morgan, Sabin, Capital City, Gault, Given, International, Fanning and Monitor Houses.

DES MOINES AS A HOME.

As a place of residence, Des Moines is alike desirable to the capitalist and the artisan. The rude cabins of the pioneers have been replaced by elegant homes where culture and refinement keep pace with the ever advancing tide. After admiring the splendid mansions of the wealthy, and the handsome homes of the well-to-do, the visitor will contemplate with pleasure the homes of the mechanic, the clerk, the young business man and the laborer, miles of streets being lined with neat cottages and small houses, each surrounded by a small plat of ground, and most of them owned by their occupants. Des Moines offers many attractions to delight a cultivated mind, and claims to have those civilizing elements, which tend to develop the moral and intellectual nature, as well as those pertaining to physical comfort. Our educational advantages are excellent, and include three fine colleges, ten public and several private schools, besides business colleges, and music schools. Our churches number thirty-two, most of them having elegant and commodious edifices of worship. In regard to amusements, the city is well provided, having three fine opera houses for lectures, concerts, operas and theaters, with elegant auditoriums capable of seating over 5,000 persons. We have an exhilarating atmosphere, conducive to health and vigor, and our climate is productive of energy and enthusiasm, while the general healthfulness of the city is a noticeable feature of its attractiveness. An eminent writer has said, "Cities have always been the fire-places of civilization, whence light and heat radiated out into the cold dark world, and the union of men in large masses is indispensable to the growth and development of mankind." Des Moines has become a hearth from which intellectual and commercial light and warmth radiate in ever increasing circles. In all the elements, material, social, educational, and otherwise, the city was never more prosperous, and we invite all to come and share our benefits.

CHURCHES.

Des Moines is a city of churches, a fact which bespeaks for its residents a high moral condition of society, and an appreciation of the benign influences exerted by them. Most of the congregations are strong in members, wealth and influence, and have edifices of worship which are architectural adornments, and add in no small degree to the beauty of the city.

The following are the names and numbers of the church societies: Baptist, three; Methodist Episcopal, five; Presbyterian, three; Congregational, one; Church of Christ, one; Friends, one; Evangelical, two; Lutheran, four; Catholic, two; Episcopal, one; United Presbyterian, one; United Brethren, one; Unitarian, one; Hebrew Synagogue, one; Methodist Protestant, two; Gospel Temperance Mission, one.

COLLEGES AND PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

UNIVERSITY OF DES MOINES.

This is the oldest of our colleges—was established a number of years ago by Iowa Baptists, who determined to found at the capital of the State, an institution adequate to their increasing needs commensurate with the greatness of the city and State. This school is located in the northwestern part of the city, on an eminence commanding an extended and beautiful view of the city and its surroundings. A full collegiate curriculum is maintained, and it aims to keep pace with the scientific methods of modern instruction, and its graduates will compare favorably with the alumni of many eastern colleges. Its corps of instructors is energetic and ambitious, and fully alive to the demands of the state and the age.

CALLANAN COLLEGE.

This school was established here through the liberality of Mr. James Callanan, who gave for the purpose $20,000, while other citizens also contributed liberally.

The College aims chiefly to afford a liberal education to young ladies, and the boarding department is restricted to them, but it also prepares young gentlemen for college or business. It is thoroughly christian, but entirely undenominational. It occupies central and beautiful, yet somewhat secluded, grounds overlooking the city, and is admirably located for such an institution.

DRAKE UNIVERSITY.

This is the youngest of our colleges, and is under the auspices of the Christian denomination. It is located in a beautiful grove in the extreme northwestern portion of the city, and although it is less than a year since work was commenced on this enterprise, yet there has been erected a fine commodious building called the Student's Home, which is temporarily used for the purposes of the college, besides several elegant residences for the professors, and a number of other buildings. The foundations of the college building proper are laid, and it is expected this will be ready for occupancy early next fall. This school has been greatly assisted by the generosity of Gen. Drake of Centerville, who gave $20,000 in aid of the enterprise. The plan of the institution contemplates literary, medical, law, business, theological, art and musical courses of study.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The system of public instruction in Des Moines is very complete and of a high grade. The school buildings, nine in number, are of the finest order, and would do honor to any large city of the country, and the schools are under the care of able and competent instructors. The number of children of school age is about 8,000. The value of school property is about $550,000. Men of broad and liberal views compose the board of education, and to them is due, in no small degree, the prosperity of our schools.

PRIVATE SCHOOLS.

Besides our public schools, we have a number of private institutions of learning, among which are St. Francis and St. Mary's, (Catholic) both largely attended, and possessing excellent school buildings centrally located.

BUSINESS COLLEGES.

These institutions impart instruction in book keeping, penmanship, business arithmetic and law, telegraphy, stenography, and those branches which especially prepare young men and women for active business life. The knowledge obtained in these schools is not alone theoretical, but practical as well, fitting the student for the busy scenes of real life, and putting this knowledge to use as fast as it is acquired.

MUSIC SCHOOLS.

The advantages offered by our music schools for the acquirement of a thorough musical education, are unsurpassed in the west, and whether the student is desirous of obtaining a theoretical or practical knowledge of music, instrumental or vocal; the instructors in these schools are fully competent to impart the information desired. These institutions are all in pleasant and accessible locations, and are largely attended by advanced pupils, as well as those commencing the study of music.

PUBLIC LIBRARIES.

One of the most beneficial and complete sources of entertainment, progress and culture, is afforded by the libraries of the city. Here we have our celebrated State Library, which ranks fifth in size and importance among the law libraries of the Union. The scientific, historical, fiction, biographical and record departments are also well filled. We have also a well selected city library, containing about 4,000 volumes, in addition to which is kept a file of the leading monthly and weekly magazines, and our city publications, all of which is free to the use of the public. The State Arsenal contains the Record Library for Iowa of the wars of the United States, which are for public reference.

SOCIETIES AND ORDERS.

It is a source of satisfaction to the citizens of Des Moines, that the visitor, from abroad, it matters not from what portion of the world he comes, may find among the various benevolent and social organizations in the city, some one to extend the hand of welcome, and express a fraternal interest in the stranger. These various societies and orders are numerous, and most of them are strong in numbers and influence.

TELEGRAPH COMPANIES.

The industries of Des Moines, which have made such remarkable progress in the last few years, demand an extensive system of telegraphic communication, which is furnished by the Western Union Telegraph Company, giving us direct communication with the oceanic cables, and through them with all portions of the world.

TELEPHONE EXCHANGE.

In these days of rapid transit and expeditious transaction of business, the telegraph has been supplemented with the telephone, so that business men are enabled to hold personal conversation although widely separated. Des Moines was not slow to recognize the benefits to be derived from this invention, and her telephone system is excellent, having in use the Bell instruments.

SIGNAL SERVICE.

The United States Signal Service established a station in Des Moines, August 1, 1878. Five observations are taken daily, and reported to Washington by telegraph, from which, together with the reports received from other stations, of which there are one hundred and thirty-five, indications and predictions of the weather are made for the next twenty-four hours. The Des Moines station is one of seventeen printing signal stations in the United States, and has been of especial benefit to residents of this locality. This station is under the management of a thoroughly competent officer, who is fully informed on all matters pertaining to the weather.

STREET RAILWAY.

Des Moines has an excellent street railway, well equipped and managed. Last year the track was extended about two miles, while the present year will witness an equal extension, with the addition of several new cars to the number now upon the line. The present season, it is the intention of the company to remove the western terminus north through Brown's Addition, thence west to Cottage Grove; and the eastern terminus about a mile east of the new capitol building; also a line directly westward to Brown's Park and the State Fair grounds is projected.

WATER AND GAS.

Des Moines uses the Holly system of water works, and the Racoon river from which the water is taken, is soft and pure. The water company contemplate extensive improvements to the works, during the coming year, involving an outlay of many thousands of dollars. Of the gas works it is only necessary to state, that they are first class, and amply supply the demand, with gas of excellent quality. The lights upon the streets are numerous, and are kept in good condition.

HOSPITAL.

We have in our city an institution known as the Cottage Hospital, where any one who is sick or disabled and who needs assistance may receive from kind and experienced persons, the care and attention required. This benevolent enterprise has been sustained heretofore, through the generosity of our citizens, and the medical treatment has been furnished by the members of the Polk County Medical Society, but the hospital has recently passed into the hands of the municipal government, and its sphere of usefulness will be still more widely extended.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Des Moines claims to have one of the most thorough fire departments in the State, the companies having a large membership, with houses on each side of the river. The horses are kept constantly harnessed, and the drivers sleep in a room immediately above, in which is a gong that sounds by connection with the telephone. The harness is fastened every where with snaps, so that hitching up is the work of an instant. The department is well equipped with all necessary appurtenances for protecting and saving property, and the members are uniformed in a neat and attractive manner. The fire department is well disciplined and very efficient. The number of fires during the year 1881, was thirty-three, occasioning a loss only of $8,515.

BRIDGES.

Of the eight handsome bridges spanning the Des Moines and Raccoon rivers within the city, six cross the Des Moines, and two the Raccoon. Five of these bridges are built of iron, and three are of wood, and all are fine substantial structures, about six hundred feet in length. It is expected that one new bridge will be built across each of these rivers next year.

CEMETERIES.

Woodland cemetery, our beautiful "city of the dead," is situated in the northwestern portion of the city. The land is gently undulating, uplands and dells and shady groves abound, and a small stream quietly pursues its way through the grounds. Here the departed are left to their final rest, but their friends frequent the hallowed spot, beautifying it with costly monuments, and other memorial devices to perpetuate the memory of "the loved ones gone before." Immediately north of Woodland cemetery is the Catholic, and the Jewish cemetery adjoins it on the northwest. New grounds have been recently purchased by the city, and will be laid out for cemetery purposes for the accommodation of that portion of the city east of the Des Moines river.

IOWA STATE FAIR AND STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The Iowa State Agricultural Society, at their last session, decided to hold their next Annual Fair here. The last Fair was the grandest exhibition of the products of the soil, agricultural implements, and manufactured products, and fine stock ever held within our State. The State Society has been controlled, as a rule, by the best minds in Iowa; its affairs have been conducted with intelligence and prudence; its annual volume of transactions has accomplished a great work toward inviting immigration; it has given wide circulation to a knowledge of our resources to other States and countries; its compilation and preservation of statistics, its collection of the products of the field, and its library, are valuable.

IOWA STATE FAIR GROUNDS

Are located at Brown's Park, one mile west of the city limits. The grounds comprise about one hundred acres, including a natural lake covering nearly four acres, with an average depth of sixteen feet, and for beauty and harmony of arrangement surpass anything ever used as fair grounds in Iowa. The carriage ways and walks are kept in good order, and have ornamental entrance and exit gates. There is abundant shade, and a bountiful supply of pure cold water, there being a system of water works, operated by a powerful engine, and pipes laid throughout the grounds. The buildings are ample, tasteful and convenient for the use of exhibitors, officers and visitors. The amphitheater will easily seat ten thousand persons, and the track is pronounced the best west of Chicago. The location is very favorable, being easily accessible from all portions of the State. The C., R. I. and P. R. R. has a double track extending from their depot on Fourth street to the entrance of the Fair Grounds, and run frequent and regular trains during the State Fair. The Wabash and other railway companies expect to lay tracks to the grounds, to be ready for operation at the opening of the next State Fair.

THE NEW CAPITOL.

This vast structure when completed, in its elegance and beauty, will be a lasting monument to the wealth and liberality of the fair State of Iowa, which it so fitly represents. It occupies a double square in length reaching across one street, is built of white stone and elaborately ornamented. The massiveness of the structure is relieved by elegant domes at each of the four corners, while a larger one crowns the center of the edifice. From the commencement of the work in 1871, to November 30th, 1881, there had been expended upon it the sum of $1,834,553.88 and it is expected that the next General Assembly will hold its session in the New Capitol. The finish and decorations of the interior will be executed in a manner to harmonize with the richness and beauty of the exterior, and when completed, it is estimated that the building and grounds will have cost $2,500,000.

IMPROVEMENTS.

The year 1881 has been remarkable for the prosperity and success which has been attained in the various departments of trade, commerce and manufacturing, exceeding that of 1880 to a greater degree than had been expected by the most sanguine. New railroads, manufactories, wholesale houses and capitalists have located in our midst, during the past year, while the prospect is most encouraging for the year to come. An indication of the prosperity of the city is seen in the number of factories which commenced business here last year, prominent among which are the starch works, grape sugar works, woolen mills, paint works, alcohol works, soap factory, shirt factory, boiler works, foundry and machine works, mill furnishings, brass foundry, tile and sewer pipe works, sawmill, and a number of smaller works. The record of buildings surpasses that of any previous year, in the history of Des Moines, in residences and business houses. In regard to residences the season has been conspicuous for the number of elegant dwellings erected. The figures below will enable the reader to form an accurate idea of the extent of the improvements made during the year:

Thirty-seven business blocks...	$1,038,663
Seven hundred and twenty-five residences.....	1,780,816
Churches, colleges and public buildings.....	235,350

City improvements, including sewerage, streets, sidewalks, etc.....	$ 95,325
Railroads, including depots, bridges, round-houses, etc....	379,800

Total.....	$3,529,979

BUSINESS ENTERPRISES NEEDED.

Although Des Moines has a large number of factories in successful operation, engaged in the manufacture of a variety of products, yet there is room for many more industries in various branches of manufacture. We have shown the great advantages, natural and acquired, which Des Moines possesses for a manufacturing center, and we desire to call the attention of capitalists and manufacturers to the needs of the city. Manufacturing is admitted to be the basis of success in the growth of a city, and this is fully realized by the citizens of Des Moines, who are desirous of giving all the encouragement in their power for the establishment of new enterprises here. Nowhere in the west is there a better point for the receipt of the raw material, the production and distribution of manufactured goods, nowhere can a multitude of workmen more economically support themselves and families, or more easily procure a home. Every citizen will take pleasure in noting the growth of our various manufactories, the astonishing strides which the wholesale and jobbing interests have taken to supply the increasing demand for their goods, and the many new gateways opened for the entrance of other industries, which are bound to follow.

There is an excellent opportunity in Des Moines for the establishment of any of the following industries:

WHOLESALE DRY GOODS.

There is perhaps, no business so much needed in this city at the present time, as a large Wholesale Dry Goods House. The merchants all over Iowa, and the States and territories west of us, are asking for it, and promise their support to any reliable house that may be established here; most of the wholesale houses of this city have united in an invitation, in the following circular, pledging their support for the establishment of a Dry Goods House in this city as follows:

"We the undersigned, wholesale merchants of Des Moines, fully appreciating the fact that the great want of our city, from a commercial point of view, is one or more first class wholesale dry goods houses, wish to say that, in our judgment, the establishment of one or even two such houses would not be an experiment, but that with fair management success would be certain. We know that hundreds of our customers are waiting for the opportunity of buying their dry goods where they purchase their other goods rather than go East for them.

"We pledge the support of whatever influence we may have, as well as that of nearly two hundred traveling men."

ROLLING MILLS.

Nothing would be more cordially welcomed by our railroads, jobbers, contractors and wholesale dealers than Rolling Mills and Nail Works. It is said that the cost of returning rails and car wheels to Eastern mills for re-moulding, would pay the expense of re-manufacturing them at this point, and nails can be made at the same price as in Eastern States; and by obtaining the ore from the Iron Mountain of Missouri, or Superior regions, one half the freight paid for Eastern products could be saved.

STOCK YARDS.

One thing which we need, and the demand must soon be supplied, is good, convenient stock yards. Not only ought this to be the great central feeding point in transit, but efforts should be at once put forth to make Des Moines a notable stock market. The yards should be large and conveniently arranged. Here the butcher and the packer should be able to find at all times what their business requires.

GRAIN ELEVATORS.

The two which we now have are small and inadequate to the demand of this, the central portion of the greatest grain raising district of the Mississippi and Missouri river valleys. To those who build them, they will prove profitable investments, and their convenience to farmers about us will not be realized until we have them, and see their vast importance.

A PAPER MILL,

For the manufacture of both news and wrapping paper, would be a valuable acquisition to our city. An abundance of the material required for its manufacture is shipped from our city or wasted on the adjoining fields. The entire product of a large mill can be used here, and every convenience necessary for its operation can be had at small expense.

A LARGE PAPER BOX FACTORY would do well here, as the demand is already great, through our manufacturing confectioners, milliners, wholesale boot and shoe houses, hats, caps and furs, druggists and starch works, besides supplying the general demand which always exists for paper boxes. We understand that a large trunk factory, as well as a paper box factory, is to be in operation early the coming season.

CANNING ESTABLISHMENTS.

No soil excels our own in productiveness, and few regions can compare with us in the bountiful harvests of the field, the orchard and the garden. Instead of importing for consumption during the winter months, we ought to can for preservation our own sweet corn, peas, beans, tomatoes, small fruits, etc. We have the best facilities in the West for exporting these goods. A canning establishment, having all the needful accessories, would be a remunerative business, and should be built, and men of enterprise will not permit the city to be long without this important industry.

MISCELLANEOUS INDUSTRIES.

One thing most desired by every citizen is available and convenient Market Houses. Every resident of the city is interested in this, and the farmers and market gardeners of the vicinity are demanding it with sufficient reasons to be successful in their plea.

A large Cheese Factory in or near the city would be a remunerative industry. We have two creameries here; and two small cheese factories in the vicinity, but their capacity is not sufficient for all the milk which could be supplied, and the product could never exceed the demand.

A first-class Wagon Factory would be a profitable investment, as our agricultural implement dealers sell annually nearly one thousand wagons, which should be manufactured here. The manufacture of various farm implements is in operation here, but cannot supply one-fifth of the demand, and there is encouragement for one or more first-class factories.

The best quality of silicious sand for the manufacture of flint glass is found in the immediate vicinity of Des Moines. No better location for glass factories can be found in the West than at Des Moines.

There are many industries that would prove remunerative which should be established here, and we believe there is no better locality in the West, for manufactures of nearly every variety, than our city affords. We might mention many branches of business and manufacture which would be successful if located in Des Moines, but enough has already been said to induce anyone who is looking for a new site for business, or home, to visit our city before locating elsewhere. We might mention, however, that a factory for the manufacture of articles produced from flax straw would be a good investment here, where so much straw is wasted, the flax seed only being utilized by our linseed oil mills, which consume five hundred bushels per day.

A factory for the manufacture of baskets, tubs, buckets, and the various articles of wooden and willow ware, would, no doubt, be a successful venture. There is no better site for the establishment of a large boot and shoe factory than Des Moines. Several houses here are engaged in the business of hides, pelts and furs, and we have a first-class tannery, which could, by enlarging its capacity, prepare all the leather necessary. A factory for the production of hats, caps, furs and gloves could be operated here where there is great demand for all such goods. Furniture of all kinds should be more extensively manufactured, there being black walnut and other varieties of woods necessary for such purposes, found in this vicinity.

Other wants in the line of manufactures may be briefly stated as follows: Establishments for the manufacture of stoves, shelf hardware, druggists' materials, sewing machines; also cotton mills and woolen mills.

In the wholesale interests of our city, nearly every line of trade is represented by houses which justify us in speaking of them in the highest terms of praise, but healthful rivalry promotes growth, and there is room for at least another house in many branches of business, especially dry goods, carpets and oil cloths, clothing, boots and shoes, hats, caps and furs, china, glass and queensware, stoves and heavy hardware. Des Moines wants these and other factories, and is anxious to have these excellent opportunities utilized, when the beneficial results are so apparent, which we hope the capitalists of the country may soon realize.

SUBURBAN TOWNS.

NORTH DES MOINES.

This is a suburban town containing a population of about three hundred and fifty, and adjoins the city on the north, as the name indicates. It extends a mile and a half east and west, and half a mile north from the limits of the city, and is a popular place of residence. The situation is elevated, and the surface, which is diversified with beautiful groves of native trees, is gently undulating, affording elegant residence sites. Several residences were built there last year, and a number more will probably be erected during 1882. North Des Moines was incorporated in 1880, and has its own Mayor and town council.

UNIVERSITY PLACE.

This beautiful suburban place was surveyed and platted less than one year ago, but its growth and development has been surprising. It is the seat of Drake University, and many handsome residences have been built, while many more are sure to be erected during the coming season. It is situated in the northwestern part of the city, and is one of the most beautiful and healthful portions, and destined soon to be populated with the better classes of our citizens. The street railway is being extended in that direction, and is expected to reach the place during the coming summer. The history of this prosperous undertaking is as follows: Early in 1881, a number of enterprising citizens determined to secure for this metropolis, another first class institution of learning, and to secure to it a good beginning in endowment, a company was organized, which purchased several contiguous tracts of land, lying on both sides of Cottage Grove Avenue, the most frequented of the approaches to the business portion of the city. A part of these lands lie within the corporate limits, and a part just without the limits of the city. They are high, well drained, and mostly well set with magnificent forest trees. Broad and regular streets have been laid out, some of which have been graded, and the sidewalk has been extended to the University campus. Besides an eight acre campus, a park of about eighteen acres, and some large lots, there are over four hundred residence lots, that invite, and by their beauty, location, and the enterprise of their management, warrant, at no distant day a population which would of itself, make a fair sized town.

GREENWOOD PARK.

Was incorporated in 1881, adjoins the city on the west, and is the most beautiful of our suburban towns. It contains some of the most elegant residences in this part of the country, and Greenwood Avenue the finest drive in the city, extends throughout its entire length from east to west. It is very popular as a place of residence, and many of our leading business men prefer a residence there to the more crowded portions of the city. Most of the houses have telephone communication with the business portion of Des Moines; sidewalk is laid throughout the entire length of Greenwood Avenue, and it is anticipated that a street railway will be laid through Greenwood Park to Brown's Park, and the Iowa State Fair grounds, which lies immediately west of Greenwood Park.

SEVASTOPOL.

This is a village of about five hundred inhabitants, adjoining the city on the southeast, and the principal industry here is the mining of coal. Four mines are located within the corporate limits of this town, but the principal offices of these companies are located in the city of Des Moines, and for all practical purposes belong to the city. The town supports a variety store, a blacksmith shop, a meat market and various mechanical trades. An extensive business in market gardening is carried on here, the product being sold in Des Moines. It is probable that the area of coal fields now being operated upon, and the conveniences for transportation, will stimulate the inhabitants to extensive improvements during the coming season.

CHESTERFIELD.

Among the many evidences of the substantial growth, the material advancement and progress of Des Moines in her numerous manufac turing interests, none speaks more plainly and to the purpose than does the late movement of a few of our enterprising citizens in the purchase of the beautiful grounds just outside the south eastern limits of the city, and the laying out of the same, in convenient lots for residences, with appropriate streets and alleys. The many heavy manufacturing establishments in that locality already built and in operation, and others to be completed in the vicinity in the near future, revealed the fact to the founders of this suburban town, that the many hundreds of operatives, necessarily employed now, and the additional hundreds to be employed in these establishments of wealth and industry, must be provided with suitable homes, at no great distance from their places of labor.

Hence, the purchase of the grounds and laying out the new town which they propose to call by the name of Chesterfield. Several new houses are already completed, and the foundations for others are scattered over the addition. The demand for lots indicate that Chesterfield will soon be a very important suburb of Des Moines.

The proprietors of the town will at once proceed to build houses by the dozen, and are making ready to build a hundred and probably two hundred this year. These houses will be a great convenience to the workingmen in the factories who have now so far to go to find places to live or board.

STATE OF IOWA.

SITUATION AND EXTENT.

Iowa is situated near the geographical center of the United States, and embraces an area of 55,045 square miles, or 35,228,800 acres of fine, rich farming land unsurpassed in fertility. The two great rivers of North America—the Mississippi and Missouri—form the east and west boundaries. The eastern boundary is washed by the Mississippi river, a distance of 365 miles, and the western boundary, from the southwest corner to the mouth of the Big Sioux, by the Missouri river, a distance 364 miles, making a total of 729 miles. Its width, north and south, is about 200 miles, and its average length, east and west, a little over 300. There are ninety-nine counties in the State, and it is the fourteenth in size in the Union.

SURFACE AND DRAINAGE.

The surface is gently undulating prairie, drained by numerous rivers and smaller streams. Thousands of small streams traverse every portion, forming a system of drainage that nature could scarcely have improved upon. In the northern counties there are many small but beautiful lakes, containing a bountiful supply of fish of several delicious varieties. The surface is free from the accumulation of stagnant water, while good and pure water from wells is easily obtained everywhere, and in many places living springs abound.

CLIMATE.

The climate of Iowa cannot be called in question, as it is most delightful, healthful and invigorating. The United States census placed the State in the front rank in this respect. The pure running water, with an absence of swamps and stagnant sloughs, renders the atmosphere salubrious at all seasons. Malarious diseases are unfrequent, and that scourge of some of the older settled States—fever and ague—is seldom known. Pulmonary complaints only exist when brought here by the sufferers.

SOIL AND PRODUCTION.

The soil of Iowa has become justly famous for its fertility, and it may well be doubted whether there is an equal area of the earth's surface that contains proportionately so little untillable land, or whose soil has so high a degree of average fertility. About ninety-five per cent of the surface is tillable land. One very remarkable property of the soil is, that it will withstand very wet as well as very dry seasons, and the crops suffer less than in any other section of the country. No year is there a failure, but usually a great uniformity in the harvests, which gives almost a positive annual assurance to farming. The soil in this respect, as well as in its depth and richness, is wonderful; nor is its fertility easily exhausted. It is said that this State alone is capable of a cultivation that would yield harvests amply sufficient to feed 40,000,000 of people. Iowa presents attractions for the farmer which cannot be surpassed by any portion of the United States, in her undulating prairies, interspersed with open groves of timber, and watered by streams pure and transparent, hills of moderate height and gentle slope. Corn is always a sure crop, yielding from forty-five to seventy-five bushels per acre. Oats are also a sure crop and yield largely. Wheat generally does well in all parts of the State. Flax has been raised with great success. All kinds of root crops do well and yield enormously. Hardy fruits are raised successfully. Good water is abundant everywhere on the prairies, and is found at an average of about twenty feet from the surface.

STOCK-RAISING.

Is an important, lucrative and growing business in Iowa, and with the facilities now presented to our farmers for reaching market, is yielding golden returns. There is always a demand, and generally at remunerative prices, for all the stock a farmer can raise. The fine herds of cattle, sheep and swine exhibited at our annual State and county fairs attest that Iowa will soon rank foremost among the stock-raising States of the Union. The fertile prairies, covered with the most nutritious grasses, and watered with clear and never-failing streams, afford a range of pasturage unsurpassed in excellence or extent. The natural prairie grass is plentiful and a never-failing crop. Tame grass and clover thrive well, and both are now largely cultivated, thus giving to cattle a later range than is possible on prairie grass. Seldom, if ever, are cattle troubled by any form of disease. This can be attributed in a measure to pure air and an abundant supply of good water. Stock-raising is fast becoming a most profitable branch of farming. Iowa is the first State in hogs, the second in wheat and corn in the Union.

FRUIT GROWING.

It has long since been fully demonstrated that Iowa is one of the best fruit-growing States in the Union. The beauty and flavor of her orchard products have not been excelled in any State, and since our nurserymen have cultivated the varieties adapted to our soil and climate, we find no difficulty in raising apples abundantly. Already the older settled counties are shipping large quantities every year. In the new counties, thousands of young orchards are coming on to supply the demand of the future. Other kinds of fruit have proved equally successful. Iowa has for years taken the first premium at the National and Industrial exhibitions for the finest and greatest number of varieties of apples, true to name, which our State Horticultural Society hold the medals to attest.

MINERAL RESOURCES.

The coal field of Iowa covers an area of over twenty thousand square miles, and mining is successfully carried on in some thirty-five different counties, principally situated in the Des Moines valley, twenty to fifty miles on both sides of the river, Polk county being the center. This is an important branch of industry, and with the largely increasing demand is yielding remunerative returns for the capital invested. The measures thus far worked are from three to eight feet in thickness. The coal is bituminous, and in quality fully equal to this class of coal found in other parts of the world. The mining of coal has attracted large amounts of capital, and gives employment to thousands of men, and a constantly increasing traffic to our railways. Copper, iron and zinc have been found in limited quantities. Gypsum of the finest quality exists in large deposits. Limestone, suitable for first-class quick-lime is found in abundance in most parts of the State. Stone of good quality for building purposes is quarried in most of the counties, while potter's clay, fire clay and clay suitable for the manufacture of brick, are found in abundance. Discoveries of valuable deposits of mineral paint have also lately been made in several places. Lead has for years been extensively mined.

FUEL.

Although Iowa is a prairie State, nearly all the streams are skirted by splendid groves of timber—the prevailing varieties being oak, walnut, hickory, ash, elm, maple, linn, hackberry and cottonwood. Where cultivated in the sparsely timbered counties, it develops a rapid growth, and in a short time the owner of a prairie farm may raise timber enough to supply all his demands for fuel. By means of our admirable network of railroads the vast coal fields are also easily accessible to every part of the State. There are also large deposits of peat in some of the northern counties, but it has been used only to a limited extent.

MANUFACTURING FACILITIES.

The admirable adaptation of Iowa for the production of raw material, her vast coal deposits, good water power, and her transportation facilities, both by rail and water, enable her to offer remarkable inducements to the capitalist and manufacturer. Various kinds of manufactories are needed throughout the State, and those who may invest capital in them here can hardly fail to realize ample returns.

RAILROADS.

The railroad system of Iowa now being developed will afford to our people access to the great markets of the world. In addition to her present competing lines of transportation, eastward and southward, others are projected. The great national highway across the continent lies directly through Iowa. In 1860 there were twenty States of the Union which had more lines of railroad than Iowa; now there are only four. This wonderful progress in the construction of railroads indicates the confidence which capitalists entertain as to the future of Iowa. Iowa is traversed by railroads in almost every direction, and the work of building new lines is steadily progressing.

LANDS, TAXES, ETC.

Of the 35,228,800 acres of land in Iowa, scarcely one-half has yet been brought into cultivation, and the unimproved lands are equal in fertility to any in the State. The various railroad companies are now offering their lands for sale on easy terms, at prices ranging from $3.00 to $15.00 per acre. There are also large quantities of land in nearly all the counties, owned by private parties, which may be purchased at low rates. As soon as these lands pass into the hands of actual settlers, and improvement is commenced, their market value rapidly increases. Between the north and south boundaries of Iowa the entire country between the Mississippi and Missouri is one of the best for farming purposes in the world. The prices of land of course vary according to circumstances. In some parts of the State, lands of excellent quality may be purchased at from $4.00 to $10.00 per acre. In the counties already comparatively well settled, first-class prairie land is sold at from $7.00 to $15.00 per acre. It is all within convenient distance of market and railroad advantages. Timber land of course rates considerably higher than these prices. Improved farms command from $20.00 to $60.00 per acre, depending upon amount of improvement, location and other advantages. The State of Iowa is out of debt. Each county controls its own rate of taxation, many of them having no outstanding indebtedness.

NEWSPAPERS.

The press is a potent agency in Iowa, an outgrowth of the enterprise of the citizens. In the number and character of the daily and weekly secular papers issued, this young State is rushing rapidly to the front. The press everywhere is intelligently and earnestly at work, always endeavoring to promote the interests of Iowa, and to aid in the development of her resources.

STATE INSTITUTIONS.

Iowa is well supplied with educational, charitable and reformatory institutions, liberally endowed by the State. In most cases expensive and appropriate buildings have been supplied, and the aggregate investment in public institutions reaches into the millions. The following is a list of the several institutions and their locations: State University, Iowa City; State Agricultural College and Model Farm, Ames; Training School for Teachers, Cedar Falls; Institution for Support and Education of Deaf and Dumb, Council Bluffs; College for the Blind, Vinton; Soldiers' Orphans' Home and Home for Indigent Children, Davenport; Asylum for Feeble-Minded Children, Glenwood; State Reform School, boys' department, Eldora; State Reform School, girls' department, Mitchellville; Hospital for the Insane, Mt. Pleasant; Hospital for the Insane, Independence; Penitentiary of the State, Ft. Madison; additional Penitentiary, Anamosa.

EDUCATIONAL ADVANTAGES.

Iowa, in her educational system, ranks as one of the best in the Union. She has a permanent school fund, yielding an annual income of eight per cent, which is applied to the education of her youth. In addition, district and county school taxes are levied. The public schools are open and free to all between the ages of five and twenty-one years, for at least six months in the year. We have a State University, with an endowment by the State, and an Agricultural College, with an income derived from the sale of lands granted by the general government, and appropriations by our State Legislature. The United States official statistics show a less percentage of individuals who cannot read or write in Iowa, than in any other State in the Union. The annual expenditures for public school purposes is upwards of $5,000,000. There are upwards of 12,000 school houses, valued at about $10,000,000. The various religious denominations have also established colleges and schools of the higher grades.

POPULATION AND GROWTH.

In December, 1846, Iowa was admitted into the Union as a State, having a population then of but little over 100,000. The capital in 1857 was removed to Des Moines. The United States census of 1850 gave Iowa a population of 192,214; 1860, 674,913; 1870, 1,194,020, and in 1880, 1,624,463. Des Moines is now the metropolis as well as the capital. Since 1860 the percentage of increase has been four times that of the United States at large. Nine States which, in 1870, stood above Iowa in population, now rank below her. When we call to mind the fact that the present greatness of Iowa is all the growth of less than forty years, we may well anticipate the grandeur that awaits her in the near future—that she is provided with all the means necessary for the more rapid development of her inexhaustible resources. In her healthful climate, productive soil, railroad and water transportation facilities, and her intelligent, enterprising people, we have the best guaranty that her future progress will be unprecedented.

BUSINESS INTERESTS OF DES MOINES.

EMBRACING THE PROMINENT MANUFACTURERS AND LEADING BUSINESS HOUSES OF IOWA'S METROPOLIS.

The advantages of Des Moines, both natural and acquired, for trade and commerce, enjoyed by our merchants and manufacturers, are equal to, and, in some respects, superior to those of any city in the northwest.

The growth and development of our city is due, to a great extent, to its commanding position as the center of a grand system of railroads, and by means of these highways of commerce and civilization, Des Moines reaches the trade of a vast territory naturally tributary.

It is to our railroads, more than to any other agency, that Des Moines is indebted for her progress and prosperity, as they afford cheap and rapid transportation to and from the city, in all directions, so that she has been enabled to build up and maintain her commerce and manufactures, and rank as one of the leading cities of the west. With such transportation facilities, and the competition that must necessarily arise, it is not strange that Des Moines is able to maintain her proud position as the metropolis and commercial center of Iowa.

Our newspapers, it must be admitted—and no city in the State has the same number of first-class publications—have been important factors in promoting the growth of Des Moines, always alive to every interest, and will in the future, as in the past, use their utmost endeavors to advance the welfare and prosperity of the city.

Among other agencies which are endeavoring to build up the city, is the Des Moines Board of Trade, composed of our leading merchants, capitalists and manufacturers, which acts as a medium for advancing the interests of the city, making known her resources and advantages and affording information to strangers. It has taken a foremost position in all important enterprises whether of a purely commercial character, or of a public nature for the general good of the city, and has been the means of securing many benefits to Des Moines. The Board of Trade since its organization September 14th, 1880, has been an agency for good in all important affairs of our city, and through its influence, various enterprises have been secured to Des Moines. The members of the Board may congratulate themselves on the strength of their organization, and the good it is accomplishing. During the year 1882 much will be accomplished which will substantially benefit the city. There are now over two hundred members of the Board.

THOMAS' MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE.—Is Catarrh Curable? This question seems to be solved by the system of treatment of Dr. M. W. Thomas, and it is one so simple and easily used under all circumstances by old and young, that we feel it a duty to the public to call special attention to it. Many are skeptical and doubt the curability of this most universally prevalent disease of Iowa. The doctor has not advertised this cure until he had fully tested it, and from its universal success, he feels gratified in presenting it as an infallible cure, where the conditions of the treatment are fully carried out. The treatment is not expensive. We wish likewise to call particular attention to the Medical and Water Cure Infirmary, under the supervision of the doctor, who gives his exclusive time to the treatment of chronic diseases and surgical deformities. Here the Turkish Bath can be had—having no equal as a sanitary or curative agent; it relieves the tired and over-worked business man as no other agent can do. Indeed, all will be benefitted by the use of them—well and sick—men and women, boys and girls, old and young. Try them, and give encouragement to useful institutions.

We take pleasure in cordially recommending this school to those who contemplate sending their daughters from home to complete their education.

THE IOWA BUSINESS COLLEGE is so well known in the city and State, that any commendation of it, seems almost superfluous, and yet we could scarcely refrain from mentioning this institution in connection with the excellent educational advantages of our city. Their system of instruction in book-keeping is very thorough and complete, as also in the telegraph department, and the student has the advantage of actual business practice, a main line running to various parts of the city, on which are established railroad and telegraph offices, doing actual business, and students are required to keep a strict account of all messages sent and received, to bill and receive bills for freight, and to make out daily and weekly reports which are sent to the general office for inspection. In his factory the various departments of work are arranged with perfect system for effective operations, only the finest material is used, and the best workmen employed; and the result is the production of goods unexcelled by any in the market. All styles of carriages and wagons are manufactured here, from the light and elegant buggy or phaeton to the heaviest transfer wagon. His factory is one of the largest and most complete in the State, and in addition to manufacturing, special attention is given to repairing, painting, trimming, &c. He also makes a specialty of fine custom work, and has built some of the most elegant carriages ever produced in this city.

GUS SMITH, at 305 Walnut and 308 and 310 Third street, is the oldest as well as one of the largest dealers in staple and fancy groceries in this part of the state, having commenced business here in 1858, doing both retail and jobbing business, and his recent additions to the wholesale department, enable him to successfully compete with any of the jobbing houses in this branch of trade. The business of this house has been of a progressive character, and for nearly a quarter of a century it has maintained a prominent position among the representative establishments of this thriving city. Mr. Smith is not only one of the most extensive dealers in this line, but goods from this house may be relied upon as being of the freshest and best quality. He has established a branch of his business in Sebastopol, and is also the proprietor of the Hawthorne grocery, located in the northwestern part of the city, which is a matter of great convenience to the citizens of Brown's Addition and Cottage Grove. During his long residence in Des Moines, Mr. Smith has maintained the most honorable reputation as a man of integrity of purpose and business ability.

GEORGE S. SNEER.—This house, which is elegantly located at 203 Fifth street, enjoys a reputation second to none in their line of business for the quality and extent of their stock, which consists of builders and shelf hardware, stoves and tinware, and a large stock of articles pertaining to the general hardware trade, comprising every variety of merchandise usually found in metropolitan establishments of this character. Mr. Sneer occupies an excellent storeroom 22x132 feet, having ample room for the transaction of business, a full stock is kept constantly on hand, and he has a prosperous trade.

GARFIELD PLUMBING COMPANY is established at 220 Fourth street, where they succeeded James Lang in the business of plumbing, gas fitting, steam and furnace heating; &c. They carry in stock, an assortment of fine gas fixtures, chandeliers and brackets of various styles; also, plumbers material, and plain and fancy articles pertaining to this line. They execute orders for fitting up stores and residences, and all work in their line, (making a specialty of steam heating) in the most thorough manner.

IOWA CENTRAL COAL CO. The coal trade forms a very important item in the industries of Des Moines, and among the many coal and mining companies doing business here, the Iowa Central Coal Company is well worthy of mention. Their office is established at 517 Mulberry, where they are prepared to receive orders for coal in large or small quantities. Their facilities are excellent for supplying hard and soft coal, in any quantity, and they are prepared to guarantee satisfaction to their customers.

J. P. FOSTER is the oldest, as well as one of the most extensive dealers in real estate in this locality, and must be regarded as one who has aided materially in promoting the growth of Des Moines, the city which to-day is the wonder of the state, on account of the many fine buildings being erected in every direction, and the general activity displayed in business. Mr. Foster gives special attention to the renting of houses in the city and the sale of city property. He has handled some of the finest and most valuable property, as well as many of the largest monetary bargains in Des Moines and the surrounding country. His office is located at 311 Fifth street, and he is recognized as a man of integrity of purpose and straight forward dealing.

BUTZ BROS. & Co., at 423 east Walnut and 228 east Fifth street, are wholesale dealers in fancy groceries, foreign fruits, nuts, oranges, lemons; also, all kinds of crackers from one of the leading manufactories of this country. This firm is recently from Chicago, from which point they have been well and favorably known to the trade of Iowa, are well acquainted with the people of our state, and know the wants of the trade. They are live energetic business men, and from their knowledge of their business, and with ample capital, we doubt not that ere long they will rank among the heaviest houses of the state. We welcome them to the metropolis.

FRANK W. VORSE is well known as one of the most enterprising and prosperous of Des Moines' agricultural implement dealers, and although a young man, has had years of experience in this business, being a son of the late N. T. Vorse, one of the oldest dealers in this line in the state. He has recently erected, and moved his stock into, a fine new building on the corner of east Fourth and Walnut streets. This block is 54x180 feet, three stories high, and is built in the most substantial manner, with solid stone foundations. Switches are arranged so that cars are run inside for loading and unloading machinery. The business of Mr. Vorse is both wholesale and retail, and in addition to this, the building is to be used as a transfer depot and storage house for the accommodation of a large number of business men. Energy, industry and a thorough practical knowledge of the business, enable him to extend and increase his trade year by year, and he has aided materially in the development of the agricultural resources of the surrounding country.

THE BANKERS' LIFE ASSOCIATION was organized in 1879, as a Life Protection Association, for bank officers and their assistants. Bankers of Iowa and Illinois joining in its articles of incorporations, as it progressed in its work the mercantile community sought the benefit of its protection, and it was decided by the board of managers that those who could receive the endorsement or recommendation of a bank officer should be eligible to membership, and this will assure a membership of strictly first-class risks. The Association has now opened with its increasing business, a general office at 211 Fourth street, Des Moines, which will be its headquarters in charge of its general manager, Mr. N. B. Collins. We look for this Association to be one of the growing permanent institutions of the northwest, its board of management consisting of some of the first bank officers of the state, assuring ability and integrity unquestioned in its management. Its collateral guarantee deposits, member with member, which becomes the foundation and capital to the Association, and a steadily growing surplus fund, in lieu of the reserve of the old line companies, giving it with these facts as to management and plan as a co-operative Life Protection Association, the promise of a stability and permanency that no other like organization possesses.

HOLLINGSWORTH & JONES. Undoubtedly Des

Moines has the largest trade in agricultural implements of any city in the west, and one of the most extensive firms engaged in supplying the great demand for this class of goods is that of the above firm, located at 506 and 508 East Locust. They occupy a building 44x132 feet, three stories and basement which is entirely used for their business. They also deal in carriages, and wagons, open and top buggies making a specialty of the Isham leather spring, and three spring wagons. Their trade, like that of all the leading business houses of the city is constantly increasing, with the increased development of the surrounding country.

B. S. SCHERMERHORN & CO. Des Moines wholesale dealers in eggs and butter, have aided materially in centering the trade of the farmers of Central Iowa in this city, and foremost among those engaged in this branch of business, is the above named firm, located at 113 Walnut street, and their business involves hundred of country shippers and farmers throughout a wide extent of territory. This is a valuable institution for this city, employing a number of travelling salesmen, as well a large force of men in the establishment. For a number of years they have been established in this business in Pella, and the Des Moines house is a branch of that business, and is under the able management of P. E. Van Hoesen:

JAMES T. ALLEN & CO.—In a city containing the large number of wholesale houses and manufactories, not to mention the retail business, found in Des Moines, there must necessarily arise a large business in the transfer of freight and merchandise. Five companies in the city are engaged in this business, of which James T. Allen & Co., proprietors of the Merchant's Transfer, are one of the best disciplined and most reliable. They deliver goods to all parts of the city, collect and pay freight bills, and do a general delivery business, making a specialty of moving household goods, pianos and safes. Their office is at 309 Fifth street, where they are prepared to receive orders for any business in their line.

THE UNITED STATES EXPRESS CO., has recently removed their office to 208 Fourth street, where they occupy a large and convenient office for the transaction of their extensive business. Here they receive money and small packages for transmission, and for heavier freight they have established a depot north of the C. R. I. & P. depot between Third and Fourth streets. The popularity of this company in this section of the country, is largely due to the able management of its affairs by E. L. Smith, who has been in charge of the office for 17 years, and W. H. Quick who has been superintendent of this division during the past 17 years. They are both gentlemen of business ability and integrity, and the business of the company is very prosperous in their hands.

W. R. STEWART JR. & CO., are among the most extensive importers and jobbers in Iowa, of crockery, glassware, china, lamps, etc., importing directly from French, English and other manufacturers, and their stock embraces every article known to the trade. L. A. Stewart & Co., have their office in the same building with the above house, and are jobbers of oils, including kerosene, naphtha, rock, lard, and all varieties of illuminating and lubricating oils. The wholesale house of A. T. Stewart & Co., deals exclusively in cutlery, office also in the building with the above firms. These three firms enjoy a large share of public patronage, their trade extending throughout Iowa and the adjoining states, necessitating the services of a large corps of travelling salesmen to represent the interests of these houses. The building in which they are located is on the northeast corner of Locust and Fifth streets, substantially built of brick, 66x132 feet, three stories and basement. In the conduct of their extensive business they display a rare amount of tact, energy and enterprise.

L. M. SANDFORD & CO., under Valley Bank, 401 Court avenue, are real estate and insurance agents. This firm has a fine list of lands, and city and suburban property on their books, for sale. They have also coal lands that are very promising of abundance of the best quality of coal, and grounds in and adjoining the city suitable for manufacturing purposes, all at reasonable rates. From their long experience in their business they are enabled to give any information with reference to property in the city and surrounding country. In their insurance they represent some of the best fire companies doing business in this country.

DEXTER MANUFACTURING CO., brass founders and machinists, successors to the Northwestern Brass Works, are doing an extensive business in the manufacture of all kinds of brass castings. They are first class pattern makers and besides doing their own work they make patent office models for those taking out patents. This company are the proprietors and manufacturers of the celebrated Dexter newspaper folder, the best yet invented. They are doing a large business, and are shipping their goods to all parts of the country. The proprietors are W. W. Wilmer, J. J. Town, W. H. Welch, T. C. Dexter, W. E. Andrews, J. S. Hill and J. E. Tetley.

The Course of Study has been so arranged that (with the exception of the Moot Court, to be held on Saturdays) the Winter Term is devoted to Commercial and Business Law. This is designed to accommodate those who desire a knowledge of the laws of business, but do not expect to enter the profession. And by thus excluding from the Winter Term the Law of Practice and Procedure, and other topics which are mainly valuable to the practitioner, it is confidently expected by the Faculty that many young men will gladly avail themselves of this three months' course in the Laws of Business.

First term begins September 25, 1882; ends December 23, 1882. Second term begins January 2, 1883; ends March 4, 1883. Third term begins April 2, 1883; ends June 14, 1883. Tuition $50 per year, or $30 per term, payable in advance.

For advantages of location, course of study and other information, address the Secretary.

CATARRH.

In the Northwest Catarrh is an almost universal disease and one that all may dread and avoid, as it comes like a thief stealing upon us and robbing us of the best we have. But to describe it is useless, as nine out of every ten who read this experience its troublesome presence in some form, but all do not stop to realize that Catarrh is but the advance guard and forerunner of

BRONCHITIS,

With its troublesome hacking cough, worrying in the morning, aggravating in the evening, and annoying all the time; but such it is and when Bronchitis has run its race and done its perfect work

CONSUMPTION

Stalks in and thousands and tens of thousands fall victims each year to the dread destroyer. The above is the route by which multitudes are going and have gone to their

DEATH.

We wish to make the announcement that we have found

A REMEDY

Which cures Catarrh, Bronchitis and incipient Consumption and that it is a SURE AND PERMANENT CURE. We do not claim to have made the discovery of the curative powers of this remedy, but we do claim to be the pioneers in introducing it in America. The discovery was brought about by those who were making a thorough study of the "germ theory" of disease.

It has been thoroughly tested and has been found a safe, sure and speedy cure in many of the worst cases that could be found. Such is our confidence in the Remedy that we pledge ourselves to return all money paid us by a patient on his testifying that he has not received relief. Send us your address on a postal card or call for our blank form for reporting your case. This will enable us to give you a thorough examination and will cost you nothing.

Sincerely Yours,

But to describe it is useless, as nine out of every ten who read this experience its troublesome presence in some form; but all do not stop to realize that Catarrh is but the advance guard and forerunner of

BRONCHITIS,

With its troublesome hacking cough, worrying in the morning, aggravating in the evening, and annoying all the time; but such it is and when Bronchitis has run its race and done its perfect work

CONSUMPTION

Stalks in and thousands and tens of thousands fall victims each year to the dread destroyer. The above is the route by which multitudes are going and have gone to their

DEATH.

We wish to make the announcement that we have found

A REMEDY

Which cures Catarrh, Bronchitis and incipient Consumption and that it is a SURE AND PERMANENT CURE. We do not claim to have made the discovery of the curative powers of this remedy, but we do claim to be the pioneers in introducing it in America. The discovery was brought about by those who were making a thorough study of the "germ theory" of disease.

It has been thoroughly tested and has been found a safe, sure and speedy cure in many of the worst cases that could be found. Such is our confidence in the Remedy that we pledge ourselves to return all money paid us by a patient on his testifying that he has not received relief. Send us your address on a postal card or call for our blank form for reporting your case. This will enable us to give you a thorough examination and will cost you nothing.

Sincerely Yours,

FAIRFIELD, IOWA, July, 1882.

The Twenty-Ninth Annual Exhibition of the Society will be held at Des Moines, September 1st to 8th inclusive. The premiums have been largely increased and aggregate $18,045, in the departments as follows: Horses and Mules, $2,188; Speed Ring, $5,805; Cattle, $3,160; Hogs, $954; Sheep, $564; Poultry, $407; Mechanics' Work, $26; Implements, etc., Grain, Seeds and Vegetables, $781; Pantry and Kitchen, $519; Butter and Cheese, $601; Essays and Daily Implements, $65; Fruits, $400; Plants and Flowers, $243; Textile Fabrics, Mechanic and Fine Arts, $465; Household Goods and Fancy Work, $841; Boys' Department, $90; Girls' Department, $144; Paintings, Photographs and Ambrotypes, $414; Designs, Models and Natural History, $279;

The grounds are the finest in the West, provided with large and commodious buildings that are models of architecture and designed especially for the display of the different departments; an amphitheater that will seat many thousands of people, and a natural amphitheater that cannot be excelled. A perfect system of water works traverses the entire ground, affording an abundance of pure and never-failing water. One of the finest half mile tracks in the West, and pens and stables for stock that will accommodate many hundreds.

The grounds are easy of access by rail; cars running every fifteen minutes from the city to within a few feet of the main entrance, a plank walk from city to grounds, and for a pleasant drive you have one of the finest graded roads in the state.

On all railroads centering at Des Moines ONE-HALF FARE FOR PASSENGERS. FREIGHT, FULL RATE GOING TO FAIR; RETURNED FREE.

On Sunday at 11 o'clock divine services will be held upon the grounds, conducted and sermon by Rev. William Fawcett, of Chicago. Tuesday the Annual Address by Hon. James Wilson, of Tama County. Wednesday, address by Hon. Samuel J. Kirkwood, of Iowa City. Thursday, address by Hon. George B. Loring, Commissioner of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. Friday, address by Hon. James F. Wilson, of Jefferson County. There will be two chariot races each afternoon of the Fair, a foot race for a purse of $50, and arrangements are being made for a grand display of fire works and a balloon ascension. Noted horses will be on the track, giving to the lover of this class an especial attraction.

With these attractions, and no gambling of any nature or saloons on the grounds, with the liberal premiums offered, it is hoped the people will turn out en masse and make this the holiday week of the year. Come with the product of your fields, the household, the workshop, and make this Fair the grandest and best ever held.

A cordial welcome is extended you now to come and meet with us. Any information relative to the Fair or for Premium List will be responded to on application to

The Register's unrivaled location, at the Capital and news center of the State and in the center of the Great Northwest; its superiority to IOWA readers over all outside papers, giving as it does all the general news of the World that outside papers do and the IOWA news besides; its merits as a Literary and Political paper and its unrivaled Agricultural and Commercial Departments, make it the reading paper for the Farm, Office, Workshop and Family.

The Agricultural Department is edited by our Mr. C. P. Clarkson, an IOWA farmer with 25 years experience on an IOWA farm, and his articles are always reasonable, making it confessedly the best agricultural paper in the Northwest. All other departments are complete, making it the best family News paper published.

PHANTOM

I claim they are the best vehicles of their class, and will run easier, and are cheaper at low figure- than anything of the same quality in the market. I take extra pains in the selection of material, and apply the severest possible test to each and every part, in order that I may have a personal knowledge and assurance that it will prove of the requisite strength and endurance. The best, and only the best, of workmen employed. All work warranted. Write or call if you want anything in my line, and I will try to please you.

WHO IS UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THIS COUNTRY, WILL SEE BY EXAMINING THIS MAP, THAT THE

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC R'Y,

Being the Great Central Line, affords to travelers, by reason of its unrivaled geographical position, the shortest and best route between the East, Northeast and Southeast, and the West, Northwest and Southwest.

It is literally and strictly true, that its connections are all of the principal lines of road between the Atlantic and the Pacific.

By its main line and branches it reaches Chicago, Joliet, Peoria, Ottawa, La Salle, Geneseo, Moline and Rock Island, in Illinois; Davenport, Muscatine, Washington, Keokuk, Knoxville, Oskaloosa, Fairfield, Des Moines, West Liberty, Iowa City, Atlantic, Ayoka, Audubon, Harlan, Guthrie Center and Council Bluffs, in Iowa; Gallatin, Trenton, Cameron and Kansas City, in Missouri, and Leavenworth and Atchison in Kansas, and the hundreds of cities, villages and towns intermediate. The

"GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE,"

As it is familiarly called, offers to travelers all the advantages and comforts incident to a smooth track, safe bridges, Union Depots at all connecting points, Fast Express Trains, composed of COMMODIOUS, WELL VENTILATED, WELL HEATED, FINELY UPHOLSTERED and ELEGANT DAY COACHES; a line of the MOST MAGNIFICENT HORTON RECLINING CHAIR CARS ever built; PULLMAN'S latest designed and handsomest PALACE SLEEPING CARS, and DINING CARS that are acknowledged by press and people to be the FINEST RUN UPON ANY ROAD IN THE COUNTRY; and in which superior meals are served to travelers at the low rate of SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS EACH.

THREE TRAINS each way between CHICAGO and the MISSOURI RIVER.

TWO TRAINS each way between CHICAGO and MINNEAPOLIS and ST. PAUL, via the famous ALBERT LEA ROUTE.

A New and Direct Line, via Seneca and Kankakee, has recently been opened, between Newport News, Richmond, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and La Fayette, and Council Bluffs, St. Paul, Minneapolis and intermediate points.

All Through Passengers carried on Fast Express Trains.

THIS NEW AND CORRECT MAP

Proves beyond any reasonable question that the

CHICAGO & NORTH-WESTERN R'Y

Is by all odds the best road for you to take when traveling in either direction between Chicago and all of the Principal Points in the West, North and Northwest.

IMPERIAL PALACE DINING CARS.

It is the only road that runs Pullman Sleeping Cars North or North-west of Chicago. It has over 3,000 MILES OF ROAD. It forms among others, the following Trunk Lines: Council Bluffs, Colorado & California; Winona, Minnesota & Central Dakota; Sioux City & Northeastern Nebraska; Chicago, St. Paul & Minneapolis; Elgin, Rockford, Freeport & Dubuque; Milwaukee, Green Bay & Lake Superior; Jim River Valley, Pierre & Deadwood; Waukesha, Madison & Northern. Wonderful Resources of Iowa.

Few eastern people realize the size and fertility of Iowa, the most beautiful of prairie States. Its area is over 35,000,000 acres, making it equal to the States of New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland, combined.

For the year 1880 the value of its principal agricultural products, including corn, wheat, rye, oats, barley, potatoes and hay, exceeded $125,000,000; this sum considerably exceeds the total value of the above products in the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Jersey and Delaware. It also exceeds the value of similar products of all the following Southern States, viz: Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana. When it is remembered that the area of the Southern States named is seven times that of Iowa, the wonderful productiveness of this great State can be realized.

It is admitted that Iowa will soon rank as the first agricultural State in the Union; the census of 1880 shows the population to be over 1,600,000, and all this is the growth of less than half a century.

This great State is represented by only one Agricultural Weekly: The Iowa Homestead, of Des Moines, has weathered the storms of twenty-six years, and is now recognized as the especial representative of this great agricultural State, and the ablest exponent of its wonderful industrial resources—New York Independent.

Farmers' Journal, Cedar Rapids, 1872; Farmers' Stock Journal, Cedar Rapids, 1875; Fine Stock Gazette, Vinton, 1876; The Producer and Progressive Farmer, 1877; Western Stock Journal and Farmer, Iowa City; Farmers' Advocate, Grinnell.

In connection with the change in form and enlargement, we have thought it advisable to abbreviate the somewhat cumbersome name of Western Stock Journal and Farmer to Western Farm Journal, as above. This brings it almost to the original name "Farmers' Journal," under which it was established at Cedar Rapids in 1872. Since that date the following papers have been consolidated with our Journal: In 1875 the Farmers' Stock Journal; In 1876 the Fine Stock Gazette, of Vinton, Iowa; In 1877, the Producer and Progressive Farmer, and this year the Farmers' Advocate of Grinnell. The united circulation and strength of all these papers give to The Western Farm Journal a place no other paper can hope to attain among western farmers.

"Our country's products are our country's fame,
And soon must put our sister worlds to shame;
And then the heads of patriotic men,
Who seek her glory with heart, voice and pen,
With conscious pride will nobly wear the wreath
Of floral honors which the gods bequeath."

==READ==

What people who have used O & C's Cough Remedy and know its value, say of it:

While it is not our province to puff patent medicines we will say O & C's
Cough Remedy is the best thing we have ever used for a cough or cold.—
Hubbard News.

Mr. F. A. Baldwin, merchant, Cedar Bluffs, Cedar county, Iowa, says: "I have used O & C's Cough Remedy and other of your medicines and can say they are the best I have ever used in my family."

WEST BRANCH, IOWA, February 10, 1882.

MESSES. CHAMBERLAIN & Co., Des Moines Iowa —

Gents: I have been handling your remedies for the last five years and have never sold anything that gave the universal satisfaction your medicines have.
Especially the O & C's Cough Remedy and O & C's Cerate. I have sold more of O & C's Cough Remedy in the last two years than all other cough preparations put together.

Yours Truly

D. M. YETTER, Druggist.

Mr. S. W. Parker, steward of the Linn County Poor Farm, says: "During the past five years I have used over fifty bottles of O & C's Cough Remedy.
It is the best thing I ever found for a cough or cold. We all use it, and give a great deal of it to the paupers, and always with the same result—a speedy cure. I take pleasure in recommending it, as it has done me a great deal of good. I feel that I can hardly speak too highly of it."

CHAMBERLAIN'S

Colic, Cholera & Diarrhoea Remedy

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy gives the best of satisfaction.

J. LOUIS BILLAU,

Proprietor Old Reliable Drug Store, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

It is with pleasure I state that I sell a great deal more of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy than any other patent medicine I handle, and it gives PERFECT satisfaction in every instance.

DR. E. M. KEYES,

Druggist, Walker, Iowa.

GEO. ELLIS, of Malone, New York, says: "I believe that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was the means of saving my life." It cured him of a very severe attack of summer complaint.

PARKER, DAKOTA, June 1, 1880.

I take pleasure in saying to the public, as I have to my friends and acquaintances for the last five years, that I consider Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy the best medicine for the purposes it is intended, that I ever tried. Since I have used it I would not be without it. I was always subject to Cholera Morbus, and never found anything else that gives the relief that your Remedy does. I never leave home without taking it with me; and on many occasions have ran with it to the relief of some sufferer, and have never known it to fail. My children always call for that good medicine when they have pain in the stomach or bowels.

Yours Truly,

C. D. CONE, Attorney.

MESSRS. HYATT & SON, of Chillicothe, Iowa, says: "We have been selling Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for about five years and take pleasure in saying that it has always given the best satisfaction. We never have to recommend it to a person but once. There is nothing we know of that will take its place or do its work for bowel complaint in all forms."

CHAMBERLAIN & CO., Sole Proprietors,

208 Court Ave., Des Moines, Iowa.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

"Our country's products are our country's fame
And soon must put our sister worlds to shame;
And then the heads of patriotic men,
Who seek her glory with heart, voice and pen,
With conscious pride will nobly wear the wreath
Of floral honors which the gods bequeath."

Hubbard News.

Mr. F. A. Baldwin, merchant, Cedar Bluffs, Cedar county, Iowa, says: "I have used O & C's Cough Remedy and other of your medicines and can say they are the best I have ever used in my family."

WEST BRANCH, IOWA, February 10, 1882.

MESSRS. CHAMBERLAIN & Co., Des Moines Iowa—

Gents: I have been handling your remedies for the last five years and have never sold anything that gave the universal satisfaction your medicines have.
Especially the O & C's Cough Remedy and O & C's Citrate. I have sold more of O & C's Cough Remedy in the last two years than all other cough preparations put together.

Yours Truly

D. M. YETTER, Druggist.

Mr. S. W. Parker, steward of the Linn County Poor Farm, says: "During the past five years I have used over fifty bottles of O & C's Cough Remedy.
It is the best thing I ever found for a cough or cold. We all use it, and give a great deal of it to the paupers, and always with the same result—a speedy cure! I take pleasure in recommending it, as it has done me a great deal of good. I feel that I can hardly speak too highly of it."
